CITY LOOKS AT RECYCLING AUDITS, RIGHT-OF-WAY DONATION

By Caitlin Switzer
MONTROSE-Although a recent interactive work session focused on the Montrose Recycling Advisory Committee, the topic was once again explored at the regular Council work session on Monday, April 1.

Mayor Barbara Bynum said, "Work sessions are a time that Council sets aside and we use the work sessions to go over agenda items that we're going to be working on with staff or that staff have already done a lot of work on and they're going to be bringing forward to the city council at a future date for a decision oftentimes in the form of a formal vote.

"Because the work session doesn't involve any voting we also don't have public comment during work sessions but anyone is allowed to be here in person for the work sessions, anyone is allowed to watch

Briana Greer asked about Bynum's Letter.

By Gail Marvel
MONTROSE-During the regular Montrose City Council meeting on April 1, Montrose Resident Briana Greer spoke during the time for Public Comment, calling attention to the proposed Dolores Canyon National Monument and to a letter of support for the project on official City letterhead from Mayor Barbara Bynum.

Greer, who said that she spent her career predicting, reducing, and remediating mining impacts to water quality, spoke to the importance of minerals in our area. She said, "Minerals are essential and used in energy and defense. Uravan is a mineral belt." Greer noted that today, minerals are often sourced from high-conflict regions of the world and from regions with substandard human rights protections.

Greer said that after researching the proposed National Monument, she realized that she will never know what government agencies, i.e., Bureau of Reclamation, Department of Defense, Department of Energy, think about the proposal. She said, "There is no need for process under the Antiquities Act. Proclamations are signed by the President and agencies don't weigh in until the management plan is written."

When Greer first requested a map of the proposed project from Montrose County

DRIVE-BY SHOOTING UNDER INVESTIGATION IN ROCKY FORD

Special to the Mirror

ROCKY FORD, CO – On April 3, 2024, at approximately 11:30 p.m., Rocky Ford Police Department (RFPD) Officers were dispatched to the area of the 0-100 block of Yucca Dr. in Rocky Ford, CO, on reports of shots fired. RFPD Officers with the assistance of the Otero County Sheriff's Office (OCSO) Deputies who responded to assist, were able to determine that an occupied residence was struck with multiple rounds, and evidence was located nearby along the road.

No residents within the home were injured, but extensive property damage occurred. A neighborhood canvas was conducted, and a small black SUV or sedan, along with a white sedan, were observed leaving the area at a high rate of speed shortly after. At this time, it is unknown if either vehicle was involved or fleeing the area due to the gunfire.

RFPD has requested the assistance of the Colorado Bureau of Investigation (CBI) in investigating the incident. Anyone with information on the incident or who might have video surveillance, which may have captured vehicles leaving the area, is asked to contact the RFPD at 719-254-3344.

OPINION/EDITORIAL: LETTERS

REGULAR CITIZENS WANTED!!

Editor:

Calling "regular" citizens to take our city back! Where are the modern day, brave men and women who can stand up to the attack on our America? We don't want greedy, power hungry "Professional Politicians"!! We are looking for "ordinary" citizens who actually CARE about our citizens; can manage our roads and budget; spend our money wisely; shield us from WOKE agendas and attacks on our citizens by terrorists that come in the form of illegal aliens; actually STAND by our Constitution; and continue to keep Government LITTLE! We don't want to be BOUGHT AND SOLD by fancy grants with controlling conditions!

Did you know the Democrats know they can take over our city by getting on all different kinds of local boards? Look at our local library: completely invaded! Want to know a "secret"? If you have the above qualifications, please apply here (click on link) to any boards (our County Commissioners are over ALL of these!!!) OR run for City Council next time around. Did you know that only 3,621 votes were received last City Council election on April 2? Really?!! My assumptions: A) either people don't care anymore about what happens to our city, or B) the Candidates available to us were NOT good choices. We can do better, Montrose! Perhaps people don't trust the voting process?? If not, have you contacted our County Clerk? WE need to do something--- whether it's actually VOTING!!!, getting on a local board, running for office (thank you to the current County Commissioner Candidates for stepping up!!!), or helping spread the word. If you don't get a ballot in the mail this June, then go get one at our County Clerk's office and straighten the details out!!

Lastly, before anyone calls me a "hater," "spreader of fear," "unloving," or any other virtue signaling name that people use to manipulate and control with, I believe in protecting the people of our city and our nation. If you don't love America, then please move to the Country that supports your values! Thank you for listening to my rant. Montrose, we can do better!

OPINION/EDITORIAL: LETTERS

CULTIVATED MEAT IS CURRENTLY TOO EXPENSIVE TO MASS PRODUCE

To the editor,

With avian flu spreading to humans, our political leaders should support increased public funding for cultivated-meat research. For those who aren't familiar with the term, cultivated meat is grown from animal cells, without slaughter. By removing livestock from the process, we can lower the risk of zoonotic pandemics.

Though the private sector has made admirable progress in developing the field of cellular agriculture, further government investment is needed to overcome technological hurdles. The most significant of these is cultivated meat is currently too expensive to mass produce. Our leaders can help fix this with money for research.

MONTROSE REGIONAL AIRPORT ANNOUNCES CANCELLATION OF 2024 TRIBUTE TO AVIATION

Special to the Mirror

MONTROSE- -Montrose Regional Airport (MTJ) announced today the cancellation of the 2024 Tribute to Aviation event due to unforeseen global circumstances that could impact the participation of military aircraft. The Tribute to Aviation is a highly anticipated community event showcasing a stunning display of military and civilian aircraft. Military participation is a cornerstone of the event, offering attendees a unique opportunity to see these impressive machines up close.

“The decision to cancel this year's Tribute to Aviation was not an easy one,” said Montrose County Director of Aviation Lloyd Arnold. “Global events may affect our ability to secure the military presence that is such a central part of the event experience. We wouldn't want to disappoint our community with a scaled-back version of this popular event.” While disappointed about the 2024 cancellation, MTJ is already looking forward to next year. “We are committed to bringing back a bigger and better Tribute to Aviation in 2025,” said Arnold.

“We are actively planning and will work diligently to secure a diverse range of military and civilian aircraft for the next event.” The Montrose Regional Airport extends its gratitude to the community for its ongoing support of the Tribute to Aviation. “We appreciate the incredible enthusiasm for the Tribute to Aviation,” said Arnold. “We look forward to celebrating aviation with our community again in 2025.” For updates on Tribute to Aviation, please visit the Montrose Regional Airport website or follow MTJ on social media.

REDHAWKS GIRLS' SOCCER STILL UNDEFEATED

Cliff Dodge

MONTROSE-The Montrose Redhawks girls' soccer team continued their undefeated streak last week as the girls won a pair of games, one on the road and the second at home. The road victory came at Basalt with a 9-0 whitewashing. The home victory, 2-1 over the Fruita-Monument Wildcats, broke a 10-game winless streak vs the Wildcats.

The win at Basalt saw the Redhawks completely dominate the control of the pitch and stymied the Longhorns offense before it could even mount an attack on the Redhawks goal. The Redhawks stout defense in front of their goal kept the Longhorns off balance the entire contest.

Seven Redhawks dented the scoring column with Senior Mia Duncan leading the way with three goals and an assist. Other scorers included Rylie Cohick, Gabrielle Parkison, Yuliana Almanza, Addison Shipley, Jaylee Wilson and Goalie Rachel Robuck, who was moved up to forward for the second half of the contest.

The second game of the week proved to be a far different affair as the Redhawks found themselves in a glove tight contest with the Fruita-Monument Wildcats. The visitors scored first midway through the first half of action with a shot from the right side that found its way into the back of the Redhawks goal.

The Redhawks fought back gamely in the second half as Junior Forward Ellie Duncan found opening within the Wildcats defense and pounded home two goals to secure the victory and break a 10-game winless streak against the Wildcats. Senior Mia Duncan assisted on one of Ellie Duncan's goals while Senior Rachel Robuck had the other assist. Robuck had several tough saves in the match which preserved the victory for the home team.

The twin wins increased the Redhawks overall record to eight wins, one loss and one tie. Their league record stands at three wins and zero losses. Things don't get any easier for the Redhawks as two league opponents come to visit. On April 10 the Central Warriors of Grand Junction invade Montrose and then on April 12 the Demons of Durango will attempt to end the Redhawks undefeated streak. Kickoff for both games is scheduled for 5 p.m.

MONTROSE VETERANS MEMORIAL COALITION MOVING FORWARD

Letter to the Editor:

Just a brief update on what is going on with the Montrose Veterans Memorial. If you heard that the memorial location has been relocated from Cerise Park to near the Pavilion, you heard correctly. We are happy to have this new location.

Moreover, we have other news that our Montrose Veterans Memorial Coalition has teamed up with the City of Montrose and Montrose County to get this memorial built. We are pleased with this new team and are excited to move this project forward. This merger will, however, change the time we had anticipated for the installation of our honor bricks. When we get sidewalks completed, we will schedule the first ceremony.

The Bald Eagle we posted on the MVMC Facebook account was donated by Richard Arnold of Carbondale, Colo. We asked for naming suggestions from all our FB friends and the folks did not disappoint. We had wonderful names submitted but in the end the name "Freedom" is the winner. We hope to place this large bronze sculpture at the entrance of the memorial positioned on a large sandstone rock. Freedom will be the first feature greeting all who visit the Montrose Veterans Memorial.

That's it for now and I will keep you all informed with our progress as we move forward. Thank you to those who have donated toward this impressive project that benefits our city, entire county and state. We still need to continue our fund-raising campaign and hope this good news moves citizens, service organizations, corporations and retail stores to help us get this memorial completed. Please donate in person at the Welcome Home Alliance for Veterans, 4 Hillcrest Plaza Way, Montrose, CO 81401, or by going to our website <http://montrosevmc.us/>

Sincerely,

Les Williams

Montrose Veterans Memorial Coalition President

MONTROSE REGIONAL HEALTH COMPLETES FIRST INSPIRE PROCEDURE IN MONTROSE

Special to the Mirror

MONTROSE – Otolaryngologist Dr. Mark Noel and the Surgical Services team at Montrose Regional Health have successfully completed the first Inspire® Therapy Procedure in Montrose.

"As we celebrate the successful completion of our first Inspire implant procedure, we are proud to offer our patients a revolutionary solution for obstructive sleep apnea," said Jeff Mengenhausen, CEO of Montrose Regional Health. "This milestone reflects our commitment to advancing healthcare and improving lives within our communities."

"Sleep apnea is such a prevalent condition, so having this procedure available means the potential for helping people is huge," says Dr. Noel. "The great thing about it is that you don't need any external device—it's part of you and goes with you wherever you go and can be used in any setting."

The procedure involves the insertion of a small implant under the skin of the neck and chest. Once implemented, Inspire works inside the body with a patient's natural breathing process to treat sleep apnea. Mild stimulation opens the airway during sleep, allowing oxygen to flow naturally. The patient uses a small handheld remote to turn Inspire on before bed and off when they wake up. The procedure is brief and minimally-invasive: most patients will be able to return home the same day and use over-the-counter pain medication as needed. The procedure is FDA-approved for patients suffering from obstructive sleep apnea (OSA). It is a treatment option that is specifically designed for those who cannot use Continuous Positive Airway Pressure (CPAP) Therapy due to certain sleep complications.

Obstructive sleep apnea is an incredibly common issue in the United States, affecting around 22 million Americans belonging to all age groups. It occurs when air cannot properly move through the windpipe during sleep. When OSA is left untreated, it can cause workplace accidents, stroke, heart attack, and death. People may be suffering from OSA if they are experiencing symptoms such as excessive daytime sleepiness, headaches shortly after waking up, gasping for air during the night, or if they have been observed with paused breathing during sleep. the recording, ask us questions, follow up on any items that they want...sometimes we have residents join us like we will this morning..."

DISCUSSION ITEMS

Joining Council for a presentation of the Montrose Recycling Advisory Committee Update and goals for 2024 were members of the City's Recycling Group, Lesley Hallenborg and Claudia Rogers, wearing matching Montrose Recycles t-shirts. Hallenborg shared a list of tasks that the group has accomplished in 2023 and said that Public Works Manager Jim Scheid will include Montrose Recycles in the department's budget next year.

The group's mission is to "encourage recycling, educate the public on practices to create a clean, sustainable, community and environment through rethinking how we use our limited resources responsibly by refusing, reducing, reusing and recycling," Hallenborg said. The group has begun performing recycle audits once more. "Everyone who has a can wants to recycle correctly," she said, "And it's kind of hard to know exactly how to do that because it does change."

Three neighborhoods, the police department, and city offices have so far been audited. Results were stapled to bins. "It's an ongoing process, because we want to get feedback," Hallenborg said. "We're still trying to figure out to reach people, it's the hardest part..."

Cans are not dumped; auditors review the top materials in cans, she said.

Rogers said that among the budget items for Montrose Recycles are t-shirts that are more attractive and more visible. "Maybe safety lime green, or orange, so we can be recognized when we're dumpster diving." In April Montrose Recycles will provide information to the public during the City's Spring Cleanup.

Public Works Manager Jim Scheid shared information on rebates received from Waste Management. After paying a tipping fee on recycling over the years; the value of materials has gone up and down but recently amounts to more than what it costs to process, Scheid said.

"...Hopefully we'll see it continue in that direction."

After further discussion, Council moved on to the second discussion item, the West South First Street Right-of-Way Vacation.

A memo from City Attorney Chris Dowsey to Council and staff notes that the right-of-way property will be donated to the property owner who recently acquired the adjacent parcel, an LLC called VNR Holdings. The LLC includes several parties including Don Vincent of Montrose and Trade Hub International, which is a business owned by Anthony Russo.

Background-The memo from Dowsey states, "During the sale of this property, it was found that a building on the property is encroaching into the City's right-of-way. The subject property is located at West South 1st Street, between South Water Avenue and South Grand Avenue. Part of the existing north building on the parcel at 123 S. Water Avenue encroaches into the West South 1st Street right-of-way. City staff is proposing vacating 460.90 square feet of the City's right-of-way to remedy this problem. This is to clear a title issue. The earliest photo of the building is from the 1960's, showing that it was built prior to modern surveying equipment. The current owner does have an encroachment permit to allow for the encroachment into the City's right-of-way. City staff has determined that the right-of-way is not needed for public access or utility purposes. City staff is recommending that the right-of-way strip be vacated at no cost to the adjacent owner, as an incentive to create a commercial business on the property...City staff recommends that Council approve the accompanying Ordinance, which would authorize conveyance of a portion of West South 1st Street right-of-way to the adjacent owner."

GENERAL CITY COUNCIL DISCUSSION

Councilor Doug Glaspell commended the Police Department for a fantastic Citizens Police Academy. "...Everybody did a great job, it really gave each of the departments an opportunity to get out and speak to the people, so I think it was extremely successful."

Bynum reminded all that the regular meeting would be held that evening due to the Municipal Election on April 2.

DISTRACTED DRIVING IS NO JOKE

Special to the Mirror

COLORADO – April is National Distracted Driving Month, and the Colorado State Patrol doesn't want you to be fooled; if a trooper sees you driving distracted, a citation for improper, reckless or careless driving could soon be on your way.

Last year, Colorado State Troopers issued 15,553 of these citations, a 4.5% increase over 2022.

"Distraction starts from within us; our impatience, boredom, stress, or even fatigue and distractions can become deadly when a person is driving a vehicle," stated Col. Matthew C.

Packard, chief of the Colorado State Patrol. "It is up to all of us to be aware of the temptation of distraction. Driving needs to be the sole focus, no matter how experienced at driving you believe you are." When looking at 2023 citation data from the Colorado State Patrol, inattention to driving showed up in every age category, but the top five were:

- 1) 22-29 year olds (3,637)
- 2) 30-39 year olds (3,443)
- 3) 18-21 year olds (2,253)
- 4) 40-49 year olds (2,162)
- 5) 50-59 year olds (1,495)

In addition, the Colorado State Patrol ranked the most common roads for improper, reckless or careless citations. While I-25 and I-70 claimed the top two locations, the third location could not be specifically identified as rural roads and neighborhood streets superseded any other national or state highways in Colorado.

"When you see someone leave their lane or fail to stop at a light or stop sign, these behaviors are considered improper, reckless or careless," stated Col. Packard. "We take these 'simple' violations seriously because they can lead to the worst kind of crashes with the biggest cost being the loss of human life."

Commissioners, none was available.

A map has since surfaced and in Greer’s opinion this map is being used to lobby legislators.

Greer said, “The map suggests the National Monument boundaries will restrict the ability to explore and extract critical minerals, because extraction work requires utilization of leasing rights from the Bureau of Land Management (BLM), which could be hindered by the National Monument [designation].”

Speaking to the appearance that the City of Montrose supports the proposed project, Greer said, “The proposal packet contained a letter of support from Mayor Bynum to Senators Hickenlooper and Bennet. The letter is on City letterhead. However, when I tried to find [council] discussion or an agenda in support of this national matter, I don’t find anything. So, maybe I missed something. I’m here to understand how the support decision was reached. If not today, then as an agenda item on an upcoming meeting.”

Because the Montrose City Council does not respond to comments made during Call for Public Comment, Mayor Bynum moved on to the next agenda item.

However, in response to a later request for Public Records (CORA) filed by the Mirror and questions regarding whether all of council had discussed support for the proposed Dolores National Monument, Mayor Bynum responded in an email:

“Dear Gail Marvel,
I’ll save you a little trouble and do my best to answer your questions. A letter of support from me is not an official act of the city and therefore does not require council discussion nor a vote. My letter is attached.
Thank you,
Barbara.”

Bynum’s Dec. 8, 2023 letter of support to Senators Hickenlooper and Bennet for the Designation of the Dolores National Monument states that she supports the project as an individual.

However, legal departments for governmental entities are known to caution elected officials against using their titles and official letterhead to express individual opinions/support.

According to the City Charter (Article I, Section 10) Mayors for the City of Montrose, “...shall serve at the pleasure of the Council. The Mayor shall preside at meetings of the Council and shall exercise such powers and perform such other duties as are or may be conferred and imposed upon him or her by this Charter or the ordinances of the City. He or she shall have all of the powers, rights and privileges of a Council member. He or she shall be recognized as the head of the City Government for all ceremonial purposes, by the courts for serving civil process and by the government for purposes of military law.”

PUBLIC COMMENTS TAKE AIM AT BYNUM DURING FINAL COUNCIL MEETING AS MAYOR

Mayor Barbara Bynum, second from right, took heat from concerned constituents during her final council meeting prior to being term-limited.

By Caitlin Switzer

MONTROSE-Mayor Barbara Bynum called the regular meeting of the Montrose City Council to order at 6PM on Monday, April 1, and led in saying the Pledge of Allegiance. All councilors were present, as were Youth City Councilors Robin Kittell and Graysen Vidmar.

Mayor Pro Tem J. David Reed had no changes to the meeting agenda.

Council issued proclamations in support of National Donate Life Month and in support of A Day of Awareness for Sexual Assault and Child Abuse.

CALL FOR PUBLIC COMMENT ON NON-AGENDA ITEMS

Bynum introduced the call for public comment on non-agenda items, "...So we have agenda items, and we have an opportunity for public comment on all of those agenda items..." She asked for a show of hands for those who wished to comment on non-agenda items and read the rules for comment into the record. Three minutes are allotted for comment. "We don't go and have a discussion with you because it's not an agenda item," Bynum said. "So, it's really just your opportunity for you to tell us what's on your mind and for us to listen..."

Brian White spoke first, "At your last city council meeting, two of your people on your council did something wonderful, Ed Ulibarri and Doug Glaspell, you stayed with what you had previously voted on, on sanctuary cities...and I thank you. There was a large gathering here that night, there was probably 200 people altogether, in the sense of in the hall, down the hall, down the stairway, and in two other locations. Overwhelmingly the people that were here wanted you to say this was a non-sanctuary city. Also, there was a few people here concerned about immigrants, and rightfully so..."

White noted the conditions caused by the influx of migrants in larger cities, "...What is going on in these sanctuary cities? We're seeing it all on the TV...there's ten million new people that have come in our country; not all of 'em are good people. There's 160 countries that these people represent. They're all given...phones, food, health care..."

White recalled the comments made at the previous meeting by former Mayor Rex Swanson, who now serves with Neighborhood Watch, "He said, 'hey there's cartels here and in Grand Junction'...the people, the voters, the taxpayers, are fed up... where are these people going to go...that night on March 19 there were three in here that voted...they left the door open...it's an open door, and you created the open door here policy..."

"Sir your time is up," Bynum said.

Next to speak Briana Greer, who said she was there to comment on Montrose City support for the proposed Dolores National Monument.

"...In 1991 at 17 years old I took my first overnight rafting trip on the Dolores River. It was a transformational experience, leading me to study chemistry and geology at Fort Lewis College while working summers as a raft guide," Greer said.

"I spent my career predicting, reducing, and remediating mining impacts to water quality. The geology of the Dolores area is equally interesting, posting large vanadium deposits in the Uravan Mineral Belt," Greer said.

"Vanadium is a DLE critical mineral, uranium and copper are also present--and key to a lower carbon, electrified world. These minerals are necessary for energy and defenses, both ours and our allies' defenses. They are often sourced from high-conflict regions with lax environmental regulations and substandard human rights protections. You can see why recent news about the Dolores National Monument would intrigue me.

"As I began to research, I realized that I will never know what the Bureau of Reclamation thinks about this proclamation, what the DOD, DOE, or other agencies think about it, because there is no NEPA process required under the Antiquities Act," Greer said. "...the map suggests the national monument map boundaries will restrict the ability to explore and extract for critical minerals, because extraction would require the utilization of leasing rights from the BLM that could be hindered by the National Monument. I personally don't believe extraction of critical minerals should be hindered without a NEPA process..."

Greer said that she had requested materials on the Dolores National Monument from the Montrose County Commissioners, and the National Monument proposal package contained a letter of support from Mayor Barbara Bynum to Senators Hickenlooper and Bennet (see article by Gail Marvel in this issue).

"The letter is on City letterhead," Greer said, "However, when I try to find discussion and agendas regarding support of this important national matter, I don't find anything. So maybe I missed something. I'm here to understand how the support decision was reached. If not today, then as an agenda item at an upcoming meeting."

MONTROSE COUNTY TO HOST COMMUNITY FORUM ON DIFFERENTIAL RESPONSE IN CHILD PROTECTION SERVICES

Special to the Mirror

MONTROSE—Montrose County Child Welfare Department invites the community to a forum to learn about Differential Response (DR), a new approach to child protection services. The forum will be held on Thursday, April 24th, 2024 at 3:30pm at the Montrose County Event Center (1036 North 7th Street).

What is Differential Response (DR)?

DR is a more flexible approach to responding to reports of child abuse and neglect. It allows caseworkers to tailor their response to the specific needs of each family, ensuring child safety while also offering support services.

Key Points About DR:

Prioritizes Child Safety: DR upholds the current focus on child safety. Rigorous assessments will be conducted on all accepted referrals, using established Colorado safety and risk assessments.

More Options for Families: DR offers a broader range of services beyond traditional investigations. This allows caseworkers to connect families with resources that address their specific needs.

Strengthens Family Engagement: DR emphasizes collaboration with families. The goal is to work together to create a safe and healthy environment for children.

Community Partnerships: DR encourages collaboration with community partners to provide additional support to families.

Benefits of DR (Based on Preliminary Research):

- Increased caseworker satisfaction
- Increased family engagement with services
- Increased satisfaction among community partners
- Lower recidivism rates for families receiving FAR (Family Assessment Response) services
- Improved outcomes for children and families

The forum will provide an opportunity to learn more about DR, ask questions, and hear from local experts. To learn more about Montrose County Child Welfare, please visit their website.

“Rob brings a new perspective to this position as a long-time Investigative Reporter to this key function within the CBI,” said CBI Director Chris Schaefer. “As someone with a long track record of covering criminal justice issues from multiple perspectives, we thought he would be ideal in relaying information regarding CBI’s roles and responsibilities in Public Safety, as well as the men and women who carry out these important duties.

Low comes to CBI after 10 years with FOX31 Denver as an investigative reporter. He began his career in Grand Junction, CO with reporting stops in Fort Myers, FL, New Orleans, LA, Kansas City, MO before finally making it back to his hometown so he could keep better tabs on his beloved Denver Nuggets. OPINION/EDITORIAL: LETTERS

THIS IS THE KIND OF POLITICIAN WE DO NOT NEED

Editor:

As you may know, my name is Mark Neuhardt, and I serve as Lou Stark's campaign manager. More than anything else, I am a God-fearing man. Additionally, I humbly serve the beloved community of Montrose as an AAPC certified professional medical coder and billing specialist.

I need to address this individual who calls himself courageous and committed, Scott Francis Mijares. I ask you, where is the courage in a constant bombardment of half-truths and misleading statements? The only thing you seem committed to is misrepresenting a good man's life story. Scott Mijares, you have not only misrepresented information about Lou Stark but have also had your associates, Ken and Ana Konkel personally attack me with objective falsehoods.

You have egregiously lied about Lou's length of residence in Montrose County, his years of being homeless, and your associates have now committed to lying about my own past, calling me, in a chain email, a quote "convicted drug dealer." that is a public statement that is 100% slander and an act of overwhelming desperation and cowardice.

It is not just the general misleading statements you make that show your lack of research skills, but your ramblings show a truly alarming lack of understanding of just how county government works. Your statements about property taxes and school board funding show a vibrant lack of understanding of TABOR, and understanding TABOR is a particularly important part of any level of Colorado government.

Scott, you cut corners with your research into Lou Stark and me. Rather than reaching out and having a conversation with Lou Stark about his life story prior to your Letter to the Editor, you elected to fill in the blanks of the parts you did not know yourself, thus manipulating it to fit your narrative. You are exactly the type of politician that our community, as well as others across this nation, have become overwhelmingly tired of. We do not need another David White. David White is a disgraced County Commissioner for a reason, and his fanatical support of you, as well as his help in creating a coordinated narrative of Lou Stark's life, is a major red flag for the citizens of our beloved Montrose County.

Scott, you even went as far as to insinuate at your big reveal during the Thursday, March 14th, 2024, Republican committee meeting that quote "His name isn't even Lou, it's Steven!" as if someone going by their middle name is somehow defrauding the people. How petty is that?

I will finish with one of the issues I've had with Scott Mijares. This is more than an honest question for all of Montrose County to consider: why did the Montrose Republican committee chair at the time, Scott Riba, require Lou Stark to provide official paperwork from the Secretary of State and present it to the chair prior to being allowed to announce his candidacy for county commissioner at the Republican committee meeting? Scott Mijares was not required to do the same. Considering it was well known that Lou Stark had been a part of the Republican committee in the past, serving on the event board and the strategy and planning board, I cannot help but yearn for an honest answer as to how and why this inappropriate scenario has been allowed to occur here in Montrose County.

The reason Scott Riba gave Lou Stark for having to provide official documentation approved from the Secretary of State as part of his announcement for County Commissioner was that indeed someone in the past somehow managed to get on the Republican ballot who was very sadly not a registered Republican. Riba said that the non-Republican made it through the Republican caucus before it was even found out. Riba stated it created quite a headache. We appreciated and respected that reason given by Scott Riba. Lou Stark more than honorably showed up with the acceptable paperwork staunchly required by the Montrose Republican Committee chair, Scott Riba.

It is an objective fact that Scott Mijares was not required to show any proof whatsoever that he was a registered Republican prior to being allowed to announce his candidacy for County Commissioner in Montrose County. It is vital that you understand that it is an objective fact that our County Clerk had to alert the Republican Committee that Scott Mijares was not a registered Republican. It would appear this is the very definition of a double standard. We do not want elected officials who have double standards and who will give friends a pass. This inappropriate behavior is what creates backdoor deals and hidden special interest group agendas.

Scott Mijares said this was a glitch. How do you not know your whole life you have not been a registered Republican? What was the glitch, Scott? How big was this glitch? Who do you hold responsible for this glitch? Do we all need to check our voter registration to make sure the glitch is not more than just you?

You continually proclaim you are a lifelong Republican. Hanging a picture of Ronald Reagan on your bar wall does not make you a Republican; it makes you a person who understands their demographic. You will undoubtedly ly sell more booze hanging a picture of Reagan in this town than you will hanging a picture of Joe Biden.

It is more than imperative for Montrose County to heavily consider the following alarming facts as well: Scott, the social hour for the Republican party is at your bar. How much money do you make off the Republicans with that picture of Reagan hanging in your bar? On that note, how fair is it that when people go to the Montrose Republican committee website, the name of your bar is front and center? Free advertisement for your personal business and campaign. A nice luxury only specifically available to you. Having the sitting Republican chair, Scott Riba, and his friend, Scott Mijares, as the bartender that hosts the Republican social hour running a slate for County Commissioner seems like something people should not disregard so easily.

Scott Mijares, you absolutely refuse to acknowledge the objective truth of your time as a registered Republican. I stated before and again reiterate a verifiable, inarguable, and objective truth: you were NOT a registered Republican when you announced your candidacy. You are documented on video recording admitting to such on Thursday March 14, 2024. Subsequently, in the very same breath, you so very maliciously slandered my name and reputation to the Montrose Republican Committee members. You lie about, make up stories, and misrepresent the truth of Lou Stark's life. Scott Mijares, when you misrepresent and give half-truths, the Citizens of Montrose County must consider asking what else you have misled the public about. Your SEC violation: you say you had no part in it. You are named in the final judgment. You had to pay money back. You were a part of it one way or the other.

In closing I could not be more honored and humbled to represent Lou Stark. A man whose reputation in this town is about objective truth and helping people succeed. Now he wants to put that desire to work for the citizens of Montrose County as well. He is a dedicated hard worker, who best embodies the attributes required for being a successful and respected voice in county government. You do not need to take my word for it. Just ask around, it is a small community.

Find Lou on Facebook, call him, message him, get to know him.

Thank you, Montrose County, for reading.

God bless America, God bless Colorado, and God bless our Magnificent Montrose.

Vote STARK!

OPINION/EDITORIAL: COMMENTARY

WHERE'S THE TRANSPARENCY IN CITY GOVERNMENT?

City Manager Ducks for Cover after Open Records Act Request for Information

By David White

On March 19, 2024, I emailed the Montrose City Clerk's Office two (2) requests for public records under the Colorado Open Records Act (CORA) regarding City Manager Bill Bell; City Attorney Christopher Dowsey and a third request on March 20th concerning the waiver of fees that the City has been giving to various developers and investors within the City limits for a variety of private ventures, many speculative in nature.

The City is required to produce documents within 3 business days of a request by a member of the public. The City can also decide if they are going to charge a person requesting information a fee. In this case, the City stated that per their Open Records policy, they would need 10 business days to respond to my requests as they felt there was too much of "an ask" for them to do so in 3 days. Keep in mind that all 3 requests are separate and distinct from each other, yet they were all lumped together as though they were one request.

The 7 day extension was noticed to me on March 21st when I received a reply from the Deputy City Clerk (who is a very nice person and simply doing her job) stating that the information I requested on the City Attorney and the waiving of building permit, and other fees for private businesses would be forthcoming, but that my request for information regarding the City Manager, Bill Bell was too much to handle:

Hi Mr. White,

After careful consideration of your requests, we have determined that these requests fall under our extenuating circumstances for processing public records [24-72-203(3)(b)]. The requests involve such a large volume of records that our staff cannot reasonably prepare or gather the records within the three-day period, without substantially interfering with the custodian's obligation to perform their other public service responsibilities.

*ties. Based on our Records Management Manual, we will be able to provide you the records you have requested within 10 working days which would be by Thursday, April 4 since we have a 4-day work week.

Please let me know if you have any questions or concerns.

*Briceida Ortega
Deputy City Clerk*

Information being sought regarding Mr. Bell is very straightforward...copies of his current employment contract and bonuses received over the last several years (he receives a job performance review up to twice a year by City Council and typically receives a performance bonus after these reviews). Copies of taxpayer contributed funding to his 401K and/or other retirement accounts which are outside of what other City employees receive as he has his pension run through the ICMA (International City and County Manager's Association) rather than the City's plan. A dollar amount of his accrued sick and vacation leave (this is a financial obligation/fiscal liability to the City) as well as copies of purchase agreements for his taxpayer funded luxury vehicles. Nothing over the top. Just an ask for what should take a few keystrokes on the City's Finance Department's keyboards to produce. However, I was wrong in thinking that such a request was a simple one.

Then, on April 3rd, I received, via an email, the requested information on the City Attorney which was the subject of my second CORA request. Not too dissimilar to my request for information on the City Manager, the information was freely provided.

Here's an example of what was produced: Starting salary: $162,153.49. An annual performance review whereby he would receive a bonus, a pay increase or a combination of both (this has already happened after only 4 months as City Attorney wherein he was awarded $5,000). A City match to his 401K pension plan of up to 8%. A taxpayer funded City fleet vehicle of his choosing for business and personal use (he chose to forego a vehicle already owned by the City and ordered up a brand new 2024 Dodge Ram 1500 with Laramie Package – purchased on 1/17/2024 for $70,897.95).

On top of the above, if ever terminated, he receives a 9-month severance package. He's allowed, with City Council approval, to moonlight as a private practice attorney. He receives credit for 5 years of service to the City for the purpose of defining his vacation and sick leave accruals even though he was hired on November 6, 2023. And on and on it goes. Your elected officials gave him the moon in terms of salary and benefits.

Add to this, recently re-elected Montrose City Councilor Dave Frank's wife and their son sold Mr. Dowsey and his wife a home jointly owned by them (it was quit claimed to them by Mrs. Frank's father, former Montrose Mayor and County Commissioner, Bill Patterson in 2019 without debt) for $650,000 last Monday, April 1st. I guess when you're brought into the City Elite's club, deals can be made that benefit one another in financial and other ways. While totally legal, this just doesn't look good for either the Councilor or the Attorney in my opinion.

So...back to City Manager Bell. On April 4th, I received an email from the City Clerk's office stating the following about my first CORA request stating they would be charging me for producing records for ONLY Mr. Bell:

"The time that is being charged is on the records request regarding William Bell, as this is the only request that has taken a significant amount of time." "This is not a denial of records, however, the records request regarding William Bell will not be furnished without payment." "Your total amount due is $671.60." "The City requires a 50% deposit prior to continuing working on a request. Once received, the City will continue working on on such request. When the request is complete, the City will update the amount owed with the actual time spent on the request (which may be more or less than the original estimate). Once the remaining amount owed is paid, the City will fulfill the request. If you wish for the City to proceed, please remit $335.80 to the City Clerk's Office. You can pay over the phone with a credit card or you can come into City Hall (400 E Main Street) to pay with cash, card, or check."

Really?? $671.60 for what is in essence the same information as requested by me regarding the City Attorney. Once again, Mr. Bell, through his staff, is practicing the art of dodging a question or inquiry. Given his almost 13 year run as the Montrose City Manager, the public has a right to know not only what his current contract and any amendments say but also details of how many tens of thousands of dollars have been given to him in the form of bonuses, pension plan contributions, accrued liabilities for his sick and vacation leave and other perks along with trips to cities far and wide for City Manager meetings or those for Director's of Urban Renewal Authorities or other leadership roles he plays in our community such as last week's Downtown Colorado, Inc. "In the Game" extravaganza in Durango, Colorado where most of the City's Manager's staff was in attendance dreaming up more ways to spend YOUR money on questionable ventures in our town (like funding more restaurants, hotels and other pie in the sky Telluride style developments that are fundamentally flawed given our base labor force and many other factors that render such ventures financially unsustainable in the long run.

Again, as I continue to beat the proverbial drums, wake up Montrose to whom you've elected to govern our City as they're the ones that have allowed the activities and spendthrift ways of Mr. Bell and his associates to run free without much if any scrutiny. Last week's election didn't change a thing as the one contested race was won by the incumbent who has a very well-organized political cadre backing him and it isn't the conservative elements in town!

Come clean Mr. Bell...provide the information that was requested without any more evasive tactics. We have a right to know what you and the City Council have been doing with our dollars and it shouldn't cost us almost $700.00 to find that out.

Mr. White is an active citizen & community servant as well as a business owner, entrepreneur, former Montrose City Councilmember and Mayor as well as a two term County Commissioner and has served on many boards and commissions during his career. He & his wife are the parents of six children and have 10 grandchildren & 1 great grandchild.

COLORADO- – There are few spring storms left, and the warmer weather will soon be here to stay. Family vacations, hanging out with friends, and outdoor social gatherings are big parts of living in Colorado that many of us enjoy. Yet, it is also a time when many people fail to factor in the presence of alcohol and other impairing substances. Despite preliminary numbers showing a decline in impaired driving deaths last year, one in three fatal car crashes involved an impaired driver in Colorado.

The Colorado State Troopers want you to remember all the reasons you should make a plan for a sober ride home.

“Life is full of adventures, whether taking a trip with your family or watching a ballgame with friends, there are so many reasons you should plan a sober ride home,” stated Col. Matthew C. Packard, chief of the Colorado State Patrol. “Colorado, remember why it is important to call a rideshare or plan for a sober driver. You can even stay put and crash on the couch. It’s NOT an inconvenience – you are doing the right thing.”

The Colorado State Patrol will kick off the warm weather season by highlighting all the things we sometimes take for granted but become very clear when people stop and reflect. This multi-month campaign called “All Reasons to Drive Sober” will include social media posts, digital ads, radio PSAs and more.

“The effects of alcohol and other drugs directly impact driving behaviors,” explained Col. Packard. “We know that reaction times get longer, peripheral vision decreases and people overestimate their abilities when under the influence.”

OPINION/EDITORIAL: LETTERS

MAYBE ALL OF OUR ELECTED OFFICIALS SHOULD GET BRAND NEW TESLAS

Editor:

As readers know I have asked candidates running for a position of Montrose County Commissioner to come forward and pronounce their respective positions on several issues.

While it is easy to get background information about civilian work and educational history it is quite a bit more difficult to get a rundown on one's military service. With that in mind, at least one candidate for Montrose County Commissioner has served in the Army or the Colorado National Guard for a significant portion of his history. I would like to thank you, Mr. Dunlap for your service and respectfully ask that you publish in the press a copy of your DD214 to include all awards and medals for Valor in combat, duty assignments and the final rank upon discharge. And now, FROM WHERE I SIT: Opinions. If one thinks that all is well with our county and city governments in their operational management of their jurisdictions all that one must do to dispel such faulty opinions is to take a look around---and not even make it a GOOD look around. Former City Councilor and Mayor, Mr. David White has been researching and reporting on several issues involving city council and "THE CITY MANAGER". As the myriad of issues are exposed, (and there are many more exposures to come) they deserve our full attention. The average Montrose citizen (in the workforce or retired) struggles to pay his bills, just to survive. We have the city spending the taxpayer's tax contributions (and much more) subsidizing kitchens and the like for businessmen who could likely pay for everything they need.

Such behavior, of course, has made council's job much easier as they do not have to pay attention to what is really going on, they just go along and get along with their hireling. The list of potential recipients of the city manager's largess just keeps getting longer. We all will see how this municipal money hemorrhaged as Mr. White's CORA requests are filled.

It is unconscionable to see our city manager driving a brand new "Land Buggy" around town when the old one was barely two years out of the dealership. How many of you trade your 'chariot' every two years? And then on top of that debacle the city attorney gets a generous salary plus a pickup. Maybe all of our elected officials should get brand new Teslas.

A similar story unfolds over at the county with the 'big three' spending the Sheriff's PUBLIC SAFETY SALES TAX moneys on whatever they wanted, not what the Sheriff's department needed. They not only got irate when challenged on the spending of the funds NOT on Public Safety but somebody (lawyer?) told them they could not join the rest of the state's Sheriff's in a different/better retirement plan. Not so, the sworn officers may have a plan separate from other county and city employees.

One more question. Where has all the money come from to pay for all the city giveaways? Aside from MURA taking all spare cash from the water department, etc. has our manager and/or council indentured ANY of the city's real estate?

Taxpayers, citizens and voters of Montrose, the time has long passed when we should ignore what our elected officials are doing. Corruption being carried out right under our very noses. We have the right and OBLIGATION to keep it from happening. And when it does happen we are obligated as citizens to stop it and to keep it from happening again. Not too long ago either the county or the city had an attorney using her government credit card for personal purchases and now we have a scofflaw who has owed as much as $84,000 in federal back taxes running for county commissioner. He thinks he ought to be a commissioner. What is worse, I understand that one of our sitting commissioners RECOMMENDED him. It is not wise to have someone who needs money or who has mis-managed his own TO MANAGE YOURS AND MINE.

I have lived in Montrose for 24 years. I have seen the county build a road to nowhere and a sitting commissioner brag about his service in Vietnam, who when challenged, because he had no such service, he offered to take me outside for a fisticuffs---at a BOCC meeting no less! He also claimed to have some relative awarded the MOH as part of his qualifications for the job. (Neither the MOH story or his service in Vietnam held water). He quit. One group of commissioners tried to sell the "Montrose Memorial Hospital." They wanted to spend the profits from the sale on county projects. Trouble was all the 'fabulous' extra money the hospital had was pledged to the repayment of debt. Too bad the Board of County Commissioners at that time didn't understand that. The moral to that story, voters, is to elect (hire) some people who do. The hospital's board of trustees (and later directors) and the hospital attorney (a lawyer with a brain and a spine) blocked that with a four year legal battle which cost each side of the suit over $8,000,000. What could $16,000,000 bought for our county? Why do we want to elect anyone(s) with similar inclinations ever again?

OPINION/EDITORIAL: LETTERS

IF YOU ARE RUNNING FOR OFFICE AND BEING DISHONEST IT WILL BE DISCOVERED

Editor:

This is the computer age, so public records are quite easy to access. Especially with CORA (Colorado open records act). Scott Mijares continues to lie about being a lifelong republican. The truth of the matter is that he did not become a republican until February 12th, 2024. And that is a matter of public records, he himself changed his affiliation from unaffiliated to republican on that date. So why is he lying about it? I can only guess. My first guess is that he is ignorant of this information being accessible by anyone. My second guess is that since he involved Scott Riba in this lie, publicly saying that Riba verified his affiliation. Thus, calling into question Scott Riba's honesty and knowledge of how to verify someone's affiliation. This is something every county chair should know. And therefore, calling in to question why would the Montrose republican central committee allow a non-Republican to announce his candidacy at a monthly meeting? Maybe because the central committee has been corrupted by a chairperson who is focused only on their personal gain and not the best interest of the central committee? So, what other information have I been able to find in public records about Scott Mijares? In the 2020 presidential primary Mijares voted the Democrat ballot. I found this information in a CORA request from Ouray County. Because unaffiliated voters get two ballots in the primary (one from each party). These primary ballots have tracking numbers on them to make sure that only one gets voted. So, did he vote for Biden? Or did he vote for Bernie Sanders (the socialist)?

So, what else is Scott Mijares lying about? Well in January of 1997 he was convicted of securities fraud and permanently banned from ever trading stocks or other securities. When questioned about this Mijares tries to downplay this as if it is no big deal. Securities fraud is a big deal as it calls into question someone's honesty. Seems to be a pattern with him. And he did not contest this. So, do you voters in Montrose County want two men of questionable ethics in charge of the 100-million-dollar public funds? If not, then you need to elect Rick Dunlap and Louis Stark both these men are honest and honorable and will serve this county well. And the citizens of Montrose County will never have to worry whether they are being lied to by these men.

OPINION/EDITORIAL: LETTERS

A LETTER TO THE COMMUNITY OF MONTROSE COUNTY FROM LOU STARK

Editor:

Hello! I am Lou Stark. Born and raised in Western Colorado. I am Campaigning for Montrose County Commissioner District 1. I would like to address and clarify a little info about me brought up by my opponent. I would also like to take a moment to tell you a little more about myself.

First, I acknowledge that you are or should be concerned about my Tax Lien and my opponent's SEC Judgment. It is important to ask those questions. It is not for me to talk about my opponents past issues, but I do need to answer your concerns about my own.

Yes, I have a tax lien. Yes, it was a mistake. Yes, I do appreciate it was an insult to every hard-working taxpayer. Yes, for years, I have been actively working to correct that mistake and yes, I did learn from it - a hard lesson indeed. It was NOT due to poor financial planning, and I make no excuses for it. I have taken the necessary steps to rectify it. I do pay taxes, and I am in compliance.

I do appreciate there is a fine line between wisdom and stupidity; We all make mistakes. The difference lies in learning from them or not. That is all anyone can do.

I would ask you to consider getting your information from the source rather than individuals whose purpose is to see me lose so they can win like my opponent, his associates, and his friend, our disgraced Ex-Montrose County Commissioner. The person who likes to write about me and my campaign manager. A person who not only got our County sued but was a constant force of conflict and special interests.

If you would like more info there is a video on my FB page about it or you may reach out to me personally anytime.

Lastly regarding the taxes, there is some misleading and incorrect information circulating about the amount. The amount being posted is incorrect. The balance owed is $9,600.01. I will have this balance paid by July 28th, 2024 and the lien should be removed by November 2024. This has been a long learning process for me. I had hoped to have it finally resolved before I announced but it's the IRS and they can be time consuming and difficult.

The next comment I would like to clarify is about my residency in Montrose County. My opponent stated, "He moved to Montrose in 2020." This comes from a person who I believe has only lived in Montrose County for 2 or 3 years. Regardless, it is a very misleading statement. I moved to Montrose in 2011. I lived on 11th Street off Park. I lived there for 5 years.

I worked at Golds Gym at night as a personal trainer for a little over 4 years prior to 2020 helping people find success with their fitness goals. Most of you may know me from there or the radio station "The Range Legendary Country."

I moved to Olathe after that because of the death of my Stepdad.

My parents moved to Montrose and were camp hosts up at Silver Jack. If you were up there during that time you may remember my stepdad. He was a very Conservative Veteran and Patriot who loved to talk to people.

When he passed away from cancer, I did not want my mom living alone so I needed to find a new home for us. My apartment was small and comfortable for me but not for us. We moved to Olathe. We lived off Falcon and 6150 Road.

My mother decided to move to North Carolina to be closer to her grandkids, so I moved back to town.

Next, I will address his statements about my homelessness.

Per his letter he stated, "He is a self-professed High School dropout who lived in his car for years."

Yes, I did drop out of High School. Yes, there were 2 occasions in my life when I did not have a home. I know there are plenty of you who appreciate hard times and having to overcome adversity. If you have never had to pick yourself up and dust yourself off after dealing with some of life's curveballs you have lived a very charmed life. I think most of if not all of us have had to.

When I was 16 going on 17, I found myself homeless. I tried to keep a job and keep my grades up because I loved school and I wanted to graduate. However, a 16-year-old kid working at a pizza restaurant part time does not have a lot of money. I lived in my truck for 3 months until I finally de-cidied I just wasn't going to make it.

I dropped out of School and took an offer from my uncle to work Construction in Craig. After a year I got my GED and attempted to go to College at Mesa State, now CMU, to Study History. I wanted to be a History Teacher or Archeologist. Unfortunately, I could only afford a Semester.

I decided to join my parents as they started their Bail Bonding Business in Grand Junction. I became a Licensed Bail Bondsman/ Bounty Hunter. I did this very successfully for a long time. There came a point in my life where I decided this was not who I was. It was not, as others have stated, due to not being able to handle the job. It was a moral decision.

There was a time I bonded out a man charged with Sexually Assaulting his 11-year-old daughter. He was convicted. He was guilty. I made $2,000 because of it. I decided I did not want to make money off of other people's suffering and I did not want to continue to put dangerous individuals back on the street.

I quit. I gave up everything.

This was the second time I had been homeless. It was for about a month. I "Couch surfed" as we call it. I got a job Part-time at a radio station, saved up some money, got a place to live and moved on.

I am still at that Radio Station and have worked my way to the top. One of my promotions is what moved me to Montrose. One of the best things that has ever happened to me. Here is where I have met people I love and look forward to representing.

This is not a pity party nor am I looking for sympathy. The obstacles we face in life and how we choose to overcome them is what creates a major part of who we are, our integrity, and character. I do not live in the past. I strive to learn from yesterday so that I may apply that wisdom to my choices today for a better tomorrow.

Fellow citizens of Montrose County I am running for this County and this Community's future, our Future. To be a part of something bigger than myself, to continue to foster professionalism, teamwork, communication, and transparency in our County Government.

I will protect our tax dollars from fraud,

A LETTER TO THE COMMUNITY OF MONTROSE COUNTY FROM LOU STARK From previous pg

, corruption, mismanagement, and anybody who thinks they can manipulate it to line their pockets. We have had that in the past. That is not acceptable. I am here to continue the professionalism we have now and build upon it.

I am running to be the eyes, ears, and voice of our community in County Management for the success of all of us, not just some of us.

I am offering straightforward honest government. I will research and understand the complex situations and ideas that will be presented during my term. I will ask questions. I will get answers.

I will not cater to special interest groups or individuals. I will strive to not create conflict, but I will hold my ground when the cause is just. I will not allow my ego to get in the way of good judgment. I will vote with fairness, integrity, and logic.

If you question my character, you are welcome to reach out anytime. FB, Text, call, or coffee.

I love this Community; something great has been built here. A hundred plus years of integrity, hard work, and caring about your neighbors has made a place that I believe is like no other. Let's Keep it that way.

Remember we are in this together. We may disagree at times but we the people as well as all our government entities/ departments are a part of the same Team. That team is this entire Community.

We will succeed together, or we will fail together but as a community we are in this together.

I am ready to be your representative in County Government.

Vote Stark! Heck Yea!

OPINION/EDITORIAL: LETTERS

MY POSITIONS REGARDING THE PSST AND FPPA

Editor:

In response to Mr. Bennett's letter in the Mirror for each candidate to state their positions regarding the PSST and FPPA retirement funds, I will go first.

MY PLEDGE: "Many members of the Montrose County Sheriff's Department, and their families consider the FPPA retirement fund to be one of the primary factors they consider as they evaluate their career employment options. Should I be elected as your County Commissioner from District #1, I, Scott Mijares, pledge my unequivocal support for our Sheriff and the men and women of the MCSO that put their lives on the line daily to SERVE and PROTECT us as we go about our daily lives"?

I will start with the FPPA. The Fire Police Pension Association (FPPA) is a State of Colorado entity that was created by the Legislature. It is managed by the State of Colorado by Statute. The FPPA administers retirement, death, and disability plans for firefighters, police officers, and other first responders throughout the State of Colorado. There are several plans but the one proposed by our current county Sheriff is a "Defined Benefit" plan. Under this plan a law enforcement officers would contribute 6% of his/her salary to the plan with an additional 6% being contributed by the County of Montrose. This is 2% above what Montrose County is currently offering to all county employees.

The difference is that a defined benefit plan guarantees the member a monthly income based on their average salary and the length of their time in the plan. Currently 90% of all police, fire departments and first responders in Colorado are using this retirement plan. Montrose and Olathe Police Dept's also offer this retirement plan. The great thing about it is that members within the plan can move from jurisdiction to jurisdiction and not lose the time invested in the plan.

What does that FPPA retirement fund mean to our Sheriff's Dept? It means that Sheriff Lillard has a critical tool in his toolbox to recruit and retain experienced law enforcement officers from other jurisdictions without them sacrificing their time vested in their retirement. This attracts high quality individuals that he does not have to invest in training to strengthen his team. As our country grows the need for highly trained law enforcement is more important than ever. More important is the consensus of the MCSO personnel. They and their families want the FPPA plan and is one of their primary factors in considering their respective futures.

PSST. A little history. In 2007 a citizens committee was formed, Montrose County 4 Funding Our Future (MC4FF). This committee was created to explore and recommend to the County Commissioners and citizens of Montrose County the best way to increase funding program for our Sheriff's Department that was not a general fund tax increase. The result was a ballot initiative passed by voters to increase sales tax by .75%. This increase is to be divided into 2 accounting parts with no less than 70% to be administered by the Sheriff of Montrose County and 30% allocated to the County Commissioners for their administration over other county public safety services. Coroner, District Attorney, Public health and six others. On May 17, 2023 former County Commissioner serving at the time of the resolution passing, Gary Ellis, wrote "It was agreed that the .75% PSST would be administered proportionally. 70% by the Sheriff of Montrose County and 30% allocated to the Montrose County Commissioners for their administration and funding discretion as promulgated". According to the Sheriff this is not happening. Instead he has seen the BOCC become the initiating line-item authority for expenditures that are not in line with his public safety priorities. One of which is the FPPA that is desperately needed to attract and retain high quality officers to his department.

As your next County Commissioner I promise to fully investigate this mix up and ask the tough questions. I also will ask my fellow commissioners to join me. Citizens and our law enforcement community have my respect and loyalty. I will move heaven and earth to support you, your families, and the safety of every citizen of Montrose County. With your vote and support together, we will get it done.

Sincerely,

Scott Mijares

COLD WATER PRESENTS DANGER, LIFE JACKETS CAN HELP SAVE LIVES

Special to the Mirror

RIDGWAY— Colorado's lakes and reservoirs are opening to more recreation with the arrival of spring, but cold water temperatures can present a serious risk. Wearing a personal floatation device can save lives.

Colorado Parks and Wildlife rangers have already responded to multiple incidents this spring involving paddlesports recreationists falling into the water.

One kayaker died and another was hospitalized last Saturday after they fell into the water at Chatfield Reservoir. Two kayakers who fell into the water at Ridgway Reservoir the weekend before were rescued after they spent 15 minutes in the water.

In both cases, water temperatures were in the low 40 degrees, and all four kayakers in these two incidents were not wearing life jackets at the time they went into the water.

"Our lakes and reservoirs, while especially inviting in the spring after a long winter, can quickly become perilous without the proper precautions," said Ridgway State Park Manager Johnathon Freeborn. "The recent incidents on our waters serve as a stern reminder of nature's unpredictability and the vital importance of wearing a personal floatation device. A PFD is more than a piece of safety equipment; it's what stands between you and tragedy. Wear a life jacket – it could save your life."

The instinctive reaction when a person hits cold water is to gasp, which can lead to inhalation of water. Hypothermia can set in quickly, and use of arms and legs to swim can be quickly impaired as blood flow is directed to a person's core. This can all lead to unconsciousness or swimming failures as muscles become numb. Wearing a life jacket will keep your head above water and support your body should your swimming ability fail or you become unconscious.

"It can be deceiving when we start getting warm-weather days and it's nice outside, but everyone recreating on the water should be aware the water is still really cold and remains cold until at least mid-summer here in Colorado," said Scott Rist, Park Manager of Crawford, Paonia and Sweitzer Lake State Parks. "Having the proper gear and a life jacket on is imperative for anyone recreating on the water."

Windy conditions can exacerbate danger on the water for paddlers. Getting blown off course can happen quickly, and returning to shore can be difficult going into a headwind or when facing waves. That can lead to paddlers expending a lot of energy to navigate and maintain balance.

When a paddler loses balance and goes into the water, it can also be easy to become separated from a kayak or paddleboard.

"There are several cell phone apps that will tell you hourly wind predictions," Rist said. "Knowing when conditions are going to change can be the difference between life and death. The user has a responsibility to know before you go.

GRAVEL ADVENTURE FIELD GUIDE COMES TO RIDGWAY

Special to the Mirror
RIDGWAY-Locals and gravel bike enthusiasts "gear up" for the upcoming release of the Gravel Adventure Field Guide for Ridgway, Montrose and the West End on Friday April 26th. The event will begin with a launch party at the Colorado Boy depot located in the business district in downtown Ridgway and followed by gravel biking rides throughout the weekend. Focusing on gravel cycling routes throughout Southwest Colorado, the guidebook will feature trails for both beginners and experienced cyclists while also showcasing the history of the land, highlighting the creative community and applauding the region's astrotourism through dark sky viewing opportunities.

Spearheaded by the Ridgway Area Chamber of Commerce through the efforts of Board Secretary Tanya Ishikawa last spring, funding for the project came from a grant awarded by the Colorado Outdoor Recreation Industry Office and was achieved through a partnership with Stephen Beneski and Juan Dela Roca the creators behind Gravel Adventure Field Guides guidebooks. There was also much support and influence from Tim Tait, President of the West End Trail Alliance as well as with Ridgway's local gravel riders. "Applying for the grant was inspired by the chamber's continued efforts to help create positive exploration experiences and increase information regarding responsible tourism practices to our local communities." says Ishikawa.

In June 2023, it was announced that the RACC had received $34,500 in grant funding for the project that has now come to fruition less than a year later. Roughly eighty hours has contributed to monthly meetings, gravel rides and route development throughout the guide's creation.

"This was one of the biggest collaborations with a high degree of enthusiasm and participation," said Juan Dela Roca, Editor in Chief for GAFG recalling stages throughout the development.

Celebrate the release of the Gravel Adventure Field Guide for Ridgway, West End and Montrose area with a kickoff party with live music by popular, local, Americana duo Doug & Heather, and of course a free guide on Friday April 26th from 5:30pm to 7:30pm at the Colorado Boy Brewery Depot location (687 N Cora St). Following the launch party will be two days of community rides spread throughout the region.

SPOTTED KNAPWEED IS APRIL'S WEED OF THE MONTH

Special to the Mirror

SAN MIGUEL COUNTY- Fields of nodding purple flower heads might be beautiful from the road as you zip through ranchland on your way to a desert sojourn, but boots on the ground tell another story. The San Miguel County Noxious Weed of the Month is the Spotted knapweed (Centaurea stoebe), and like all of the county's identified bad actors, it's pernicious. Introduced to North America, likely in contaminated alfalfa from Eastern Europe, Spotted knapweed was first recorded in Washington state in the late 1800s. It is an invasive species throughout the United States and Canada.

Spotted knapweed has seeds that germinate during summer or fall, the plant's sole method of reproduction. Each plant produces about 25,000 seeds that are viable for approximately eight years. Spread through wind, animals and contaminated hay, Spotted knapweed readily establishes itself in disturbed areas such as industrial sites, along roadways and riverbanks and in rangeland.

It can be identified by its gray green leaves that sport short hairs, pinkish-purple flowers, with black-tipped "eyelashes" on top of the bracts. Peak bud production occurs in June and July.

This bully of a weed severely decreases biological diversity, reduces availability of desired forage for livestock and wildlife, and hinders reforestation and restoration efforts. Large infestations increase erosion and runoff. Most livestock and wildlife won't touch it past the rosette stage, though sheep will consume it, making them effective tools in control. Spotted knapweed can also be eradicated by hand-pulling and the employment of various biological controls. Spotted knapweed is a priority noxious weed species in San Miguel County, which means the eradication of the populations is the main objective. San Miguel County Vegetation Control & Management urges all County residents to manage any Spotted knapweed infestations with eradication in mind. Please do your part to keep San Miguel County vegetation native, and protect wildlife and livestock. Noxious weed control is a community effort!

For more information about Spotted knapweed and other noxious weeds in San Miguel County please contact Julie Kolb, Manager, Vegetation Control & Management at juliek@sanmiguelcountycogov.

District Office. This project would incorporate a Law and Public Safety Career Pathway at Montrose High School, actively addressing the urgent need for skilled professionals in law enforcement and public safety, while providing our students with a hands-on, real-world and engaging educational program designed to give them a competitive advantage in the local workforce.

The $5,000 Superintendent Innovation Award was awarded to Jamie Gann & Eve Donohoe at Peak Academy. Their project is to create a Peak Academy Literacy Center. They love their personalized school, but it comes with some costs, including no library or study center. They believe that their students need the same access to a rich selection of reading materials as other students in the district.

The Montrose Education Foundation Teacher of the Year Program recognizes licensed classroom teachers for the significant contributions they make to their schools, district and their community. Each year nominations are submitted by parents, students, colleagues or community members and are accepted in October through mid-November.

One-hundred and eight teachers were nominated & recognized in November 2023 during American Education Week with certificates & balloons. MEF recognizes the entire staff with baskets of apples at that time also. Nineteen outstanding educators completed the candidate essay questionnaire, which is based on the Colorado Teacher of the Year standards and were eligible for consideration. The 3 level recipients; Elementary, Middle & High school teachers were awarded a $500 check by Alpine Bank to use in their classrooms. Congratulations to the following recipients.

Quotes included from their application about what their teaching philosophy is.
Elementary School Recipient – Janice Con-

gour - Northside Elementary School
"All students are unique and bring their individual talents to the classroom. My classroom is a safe and nurturing environment for all students to thrive and to develop those talents, thus enabling them to grow into successful, contributing members of society."

Middle School Recipient – Greg Solseth - Columbine Middle School
"It is my desire to create a type of atmosphere where students can meet their full potential. I will provide a safe environment where students are invited to share their ideas and take risks."

High School Recipient – Laurelee MacHale - Montrose High School
"What I love about teaching is that there is more than one solution to every problem. As an art teacher, I've learned that the process is more important than the outcome."

MEF wishes to thank its sponsors - City of Montrose, Buck & Marsha Miller & Alpine Bank.

Also thank you to Laurel Wilkerson, the 2024 Montrose's Got Talent grand prize winner for her lovely entertainment at the reception. Along with MEF's sponsors, the Montrose's Got Talent competition is how the foundation raises their money to help support teachers in Montrose & Olathe's community.

The MEF board is comprised of community members who want to make a positive impact in the community's education system. Their mission statement is Education is Our Future. Board members are Deann Balash, Melissa Byrnes, Patricia Cummings, Kathy Flower, Sandy Head, Matt Jenkins, Buck Miller & Carrie Stephenson. MONTROSE-The Montrose Education Foundation, Inc. (MEF) hosted an Educator Appreciation Reception on Thursday, April 4, 2024 for all the Montrose County School District staff. At this reception the 2024 Teacher of the Year recipients & the $10,000 Impact Award were announced. The Montrose County School District Superintendent Innovation Awards were also announced.

The MEF $10,000 Impact Award is awarded annually to teachers who were past Teacher of the Year recipients or Teacher of the Year candidates for the current year who submit an impactful idea to benefit their schools & students.

The 2024 $10,000 Impact Award was awarded to Jeff Mitchell at Olathe Middle High School. His program will allow the OHS graphic design class to become a manufacturing class that would provide design services to create an end product for the school and community. This would allow students to experience first-hand experiences in design, manufacturing and entrepreneurship.

COMMUNITY OBITUARIES

DONNA DEE GARDNER

August 20, 1937 — March 23, 2024

DONNA DEE GARDNER passed away peacefully on March 23, 2024, at Colorow Care Center in Olathe, Colorado.

Donna was born to parents Claude and Helen Witcher on August 20, 1937 in Canadian, Texas. The family moved to Delta, Colorado when Donna was a small child, and she went on to graduate from Delta High School in 1955. Throughout high school and college Donna worked for Ben Walker at Benzart Photography studio in Delta, working as an assistant and learning photography. She attended Northwest Nazarene College in Nampa Idaho, through her junior year, then she would say she got her M.R.S. Degree.

She met her lifelong sweetheart, Duane Gardner, in the Delta Nazarene Church and the two were married on August 23, 1959. They moved to Colorado Springs, Burlington and Gypsum, Colorado where Donna made lasting friendships, before returning home to the Western Slope and Montrose.

Donna worked as a substitute teacher, a bookkeeper at J&M Lumber, and at Montrose Valley Funeral Home. She finally retired after working for two insurance agencies in Montrose.

She and husband Duane were adventurers and travelers, making friends all along the way. They explored Hawaii and Europe together, took all three of their grandkids on lengthy US road-trips and drove to Alaska, with Duane's brother Dean and his wife Carole. They camped at Arrowhead and wintered in Arizona where they built up a community of dear friends.

Donna was a member of the Nazarene Church. She was a lifelong servant of the church. She taught Sunday School and Caravan, worked tirelessly for missions, and she, along with Duane, were Youth Leaders. The annual teen camp-out was a highlight. She was also a proud member of the Western Slope Ladies Ministries at the Church.

Additionally, she was a volunteer for the Colorado Division of Wildlife where she helped monitor and report on the nesting of blue birds for several years. She was a member of the Good Sam's Club.

Although Donna and Duane were sports enthusiasts and never missed a Broncos or Rockies game, Donna was a diehard Colorado Rockies fan. They were surprised on their 60th Anniversary by their entire family with a box suite at Coors Field.

Donna had friends all over the world that she made simply by passing through on a vacation or by nurturing her communities during annual visits to places like Arizona. People were drawn to her sweet smile and the way she made everyone feel welcome and included in her world.

Donna is preceded in death by her partner in life and husband of 64 years, Duane Gardner, her beloved son Darrell Gardner, parents Claude and Helen Witcher and in-laws Jasper and Doris Gardner.

She is survived by her daughter Cindy (Gene Chuchuru) Gardner of Montrose, son Larry (Lori) Gardner of Vail, Arizona, daughters- in- law Diane (Ken) Gardner Juncker of Evansville, Indiana, and Christina Chuchuru. She is also survived by her pride and joy "The Grandkids," Christa, Caitlin and Chandler Gardner, Christian, Carter, and Corbin Chuchuru. Also, sister-in-law- Robyne (Ken) Showalter, Spokane, Washington and numerous cousins, nieces, and nephews.

Memorial services will be held on Saturday April 13, at 11 am at The First Church of the Nazarene, 705 S 12th Street, in Montrose by Pastor Buddy Cook. In lieu of flowers, donations can be made to The First Church of the Nazarene, in her name, to continue supporting the mission work that was so important to her. Service arrangements are being made through Crippin Funeral Home 970-249-2121.

JANICE LEE WILLENER (BELL)

August 8, 1941 — April 2, 2024

Janice Lee (Bell) Willener, 82, of Montrose, Colorado passed, April 2, 2024. She was born on August 8, 1941, to John James & Shirley Jean Bell in Grand Junction, Colorado.

She married the love of her life, Christ Wilcock Willener on January 10, 1961. They had four children; survived by husband, Christ, Suzanne Marie Willener, Kris Ann Frank (Sam Frank), John Kurt Willener and James Todd Willener (Lori Elaine), and Grandchildren; Grandson, Jacob Christopher Frank and Granddaughter Kaley Ann Frank.

Janice loved her family and her family were her life. She loved the ocean but, the San Juans lived in her heart.

VINCE FARNSWORTH OBSERVES, CAPTURES NATURE IN REAL TIME

By Caitlin Switzer

MONTROSE-In a region where many photographers come to capture the beauty of nature, Vince Farnsworth stands out. The fine art photographer is more likely to be out taking photos than promoting his own work; nevertheless, he has developed a cult-like following that continues to grow. Farnsworth has been taking pictures since he was a teen, "We had a darkroom in our bathroom," he recalls, "my sister took pictures too."

Today, Farnsworth Scenics is located inside the Montrose Center for the Arts, a small gallery space packed with images guaranteed to change the way you look at the world.

From his widely acclaimed night sky studies to photos of ordinary spots that seem extraordinary through his camera lens, Vince Farnsworth acknowledges that many viewers are moved almost to tears by his unusual approach. "A lot of people have a spiritual connection to some places, and my pictures touch on something emotional," he said. "I am just after capturing what is beautiful and unique-- people who have a connection to a place can have a strong connection to a unique image of that place—they tell me, 'I've never seen a picture like this before.'"

Many of Farnsworth's photographs have required being someplace at a time when most people don't want to be there, he said. "It often requires staying up all night—not a lot of people want to do that—it can be kind of scary sometimes."

When asked about his own favorite photo, Farnsworth mentions an image taken at night that has drawn increasing attention over the years, "It shows the whole night sky and how the stars move," he said.

For those who would like to bring a touch of beauty and mystery into their homes, the Farnsworth Gallery offers photos and prints of all sizes. "We have a lot of interesting and unique pictures," Farnsworth said. Find the gallery online at <https://www.farnsworthscenics.com/>, or call 970.209.7154.

THE BAREFOOT LAUREATE: THE CAT LEAPS INTO THE LAP OF THE IMAGINATION

By Wendy Videlock

It's been said that living with a cat is a lot like living in a perpetual poem. I can attest to this, in fact, there are times I find myself entirely absorbed simply watching either of our two cats move artfully about the house.

It might be that I'm easily entertained, but it's also true that the weightlessly fluid movement of the cat is downright mesmerizing. How like a well-turned sonnet the cat sneaks up from behind and surprises!

And very much like a poem, a cat is an appeal to slow down and pay attention. Comparing cats to dogs is worse than comparing apples to oranges, but even I can't resist the old French proverb, the dog may be wonderful prose, but only the cat is poetry. Daniel Klawitter, in his poem, "What Cats Know" enters the mind of the cat and finds that she too, on occasion, can't resist:

*Dogs are prose, and prone to please.
Mice are good for eating.
When moonlight splinters through the trees,*

We watch humans while they're sleeping.

It's true the purring of the cat is entirely unique, and yes the cat's fur is a lesson in silk, and yes, the long gaze followed by the sexy indifference is utterly divine, but it's the gravity-defying movement of the cat that shifts us into enchantment territory.

Doris Lessing tells us that if the fish is the movement of water given shape, then the cat is a diagram and the patterning of subtle air. Who has seen the wind? The cat, perhaps. Like a mirror.

I sometimes suspect a cat whispered into Niels Bohr's ear, you must use the language of poetry to express the realities of physics.

ASJ Tessimon gives us the essence of one of the cat's particular ways of moving: Cats no less liquid than their shadows Offer no angles to the wind. They slip, diminished, neat through loop-holes Less than themselves; will not be pinned

To rules or routes for journeys; counter Attack with non-resistance; twist Enticing through the curving fingers...

I'm just delighted by those two slinky stanzas, each word twisting through the fingers (and the tongue) demonstrating the cat-like countenance of diminishing, of slipping through loopholes.

Just as gobsmack-worthy is the fact that cats really do collapse their bones to navigate narrow openings; they quite literally make themselves smaller, in other words, diminish themselves. The movement of the language is an echo to the cat's unique penmanship.

Valerie Worth gives us another glimpse of the cat's way of moving in the world, which so often reveals new contextual shadings:

*The spotted cat hops
Up to a white radiator-cover
As warm as summer, and there,
Between pots of green leaves growing,
By a window of cold panes showing
Silver of snow thin across the grass...*

Indeed the feline's beauty seems to mystify, inspire and seduce the poet—only to turn on a dime toward some kind of weird comic relief. It's perfectly poetic, that moment. Here's Margaret Atwood: In the pewter mornings, the cat, a black fur sausage with yellow Houdini eyes, jumps up on the bed and tries to get onto my head. It's his way of telling whether or not I'm dead.

Obviously the cat is a reminder that taking ourselves too seriously is always a mistake. For cat lovers, the lessons offered cover an impressive range, from poignant to graceful to comical to indifference to sudden feuds or displaced aggression—and everything in between. Perhaps no other animal is quite so physically expressive while remaining deeply private and self-contained.

David Rothman reminds us that the cat's dexterity is lovely but it's also purposeful: He does purr, eyes ecstatic slits, and stretch His lanky muscles, tabby tangerine, In sun and clean himself over and under With his own rough tongue, and he is playful And affectionate when off the clock, But all that rest and popcorn carpet claw Sharpening and stretching out of one Long, languid, liquid paw after another

Is mere rehearsal for another hour...

Emily Dickinson describes that other hour:

*She sighs a Bird—she chuckles—
She flattens— then she crawls—
She runs without the look of feet—
Her eyes increase to Balls—*

Rosalie Moore describes the feline nature this way:

*Cats sleep fat and walk thin.
Cats, when they sleep, slump;
When they wake, pull in -
And where the plump's been There's skin.*

Yeats touches on the cat's watery mystery: *The cat went here and there
And the moon spun round like a top,
And the nearest kin of the moon,
The creeping cat looked up.*

Marge Piercy gives us another sublime observation of the domestic cat: Mine, says the cat, putting out his paw of darkness.

My lover, my friend, my slave, my toy, says the cat making on your chest his gesture of drawing milk from his mother's forgotten breasts.

But no exploration of the cat's way of moving would be complete without acknowledging the cat's paradoxical and stylistic way of being still.

Eckart Tolle has said that he's lived with many Zen masters in his life, all of them cats. Western slope poet, Rosemerry Wahtola Trommer agrees:

It comes to this—my great hope for learning to lie still is to become a cushion for a cat. It's a noble hope—to lie still as a cat in the curve of an arm, still as a pool of daylight on the sill, still as the sun itself, holding the center as the whole world moves around it.

Wendy Videlock serves as poet laureate of the Western Slope. Her poems and essays appear in O Magazine, Best American Poetry, The New York Times, and elsewhere. Her books are available where books are sold. Email her at westernslope-word@gmail.com
