ALTRUSA CLUB CELEBRATES 49 YEARS OF SERVICE TO MONTROSE & THE WORLD

The local Montrose Altrusa International Club originally established the Altrusa Park on Hillcrest and maintains the garden portion to this day. This park is owned by the City of Montrose and originally was a plot of dirt at the edge of the city limits. Altrusa members continue to maintain the garden by pulling weeds and cleaning up. MONTROSE - Altrusa International of Montrose celebrated its 49th birthday on June 5, 2024. The local club is a member of Altrusa International, a service club started in 1917. The stated purpose of the international club is a belief that everyone is able to make a positive difference to the world around them. Altrusa International states, "We can each volunteer our time, or donate our money, towards worthy causes. Our individual efforts are small, but they matter. We can achieve even more when we bring people together." For more than 100 years Altrusa Clubs have collected members from varying occupations and lifestyles, all sharing an interest in community service. First Lady Eleanor Roosevelt was an active New York City Altrusa member.

UPDATED GUIDELINES FOR LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Readers:

We appreciate your letters! We like reading and hearing opinions from all perspectives. We are sharing herewith our updated guidelines: In the past we have had one rule, to be implemented at the editor's discretion. We are now including two more suggested "Rules" for letter writers.

RULE 1. The Dead Horse Rule has been in place from the start of the Mirror. This is somewhat self-explanatory, but there are times when something has been said so many times it can run afoul of the "Dead Horse Rule," in which case we will inform the writer.

RULE 2. While there are always exceptions, a letter can often say what needs to be said in one page or less. Our pages are 8.5 X 11, we use a 10 pt Calibri font; letters that are roughly 800 words fit well within this suggested guideline.

RULE 3. Please limit repetitive mud-slinging to avoid bumping up against Rule 1. Also, in the case of those writing to intentionally discredit a public official or candidate for public office, please provide a link to the source of your allegation if possible. Unsourced, unproven allegations are not credible, and could in fact be untruths.

Finally, opinions expressed in letters and commentary are those of the authors themselves, and do not reflect the views of the Montrose Mirror or editorial staff.

GRASSHOPPER UPDATE

Mirror Staff Report

COLORADO-We know that they're here (See article in last week's issue, MM595), but WHY? Why are there so many grasshoppers in Colorado this summer? To find out, we spoke with CSU Master Gardener Chuck Weaver, who works with Colorado State University's Tri River Area Extension office here in Montrose. Grasshoppers hatch from eggs, Weaver said, and

In a rainy spring with an abundance of green foliage, there will be an abundant crop of grasshoppers to go with. In dry conditions, there is less for the hungry insects to eat, and their numbers are not as high.

As the grasshoppers consume local gardens and much of the landscape, it is useful to know that in other parts of the world, grasshoppers themselves are consumed as tasty treats. A 2022 BBC article touted them as "food of the Future," asking if grasshoppers could ultimately replace meat, while popular cooking sites feature various recipes for turning these bugs into tasty appetizers.

There is also a cocktail named for the ubiquitous insects; although the "Grasshopper" contains no actual bugs, it can bring a refreshing enjoyment of an otherwise maligned creature. See Recipe here.

NONE HURT AS PICKUP PLOWS INTO BANK ON SOUTH TOWNSEND

Mirror staff report

MONTROSE-All bank staff are safe and nobody was hurt, an employee at Vectra Bank told the Mirror, after a gray pickup truck plowed through the east wall at Vectra Bank (1200 S Townsend Ave) last Monday. The driver appeared to survive the incident also, the employee said.

Montrose Police Commander Larry Witte said that the driver was the only person in the vehicle at the time of the crash, which was caused by a minor medical issue. There were no injuries to anyone. Property damage was incurred to the truck as well said that she arrived at the bank shortly after the accident.

"It was bad," she said. "I am glad no one was hurt. I don't know how that truck ended up there."

JULY 25-CITIZEN REPORT & PHOTOS BY DAVID WHITE

By David White

MONTROSE-I was pulling into Home Depot at 8:20PM July 25 and witnessed a guy allegedly stealing this Dodge Ram pickup. He quickly lost control of it and crashed into a tree by Jolley Smiles and took out a DMEA transformer which killed power to Home Depot, Jolley Smiles and I think Chili's. I stopped to help only to have the perp jump out of the truck and then try to break into a BMW parked nearby (see photo). When he couldn't get into the car, he started running only to be tackled by a good Samaritan who held him down until the MPD showed up. It was wild! Like something out of a Fast & Furious movie!

Editor's Note: Calls to Montrose Police for more information regarding the incident had not been returned by press time.

KATHLEEN CURRY FOR HD58

EXPERIENCE MATTERS

WHY CHOOSE KATHLEEN CURRY FOR OUR NEXT REPRESENTATIVE AT THE COLORADO STATE CAPITOL?

Kathleen has the experience we need to get things done. She served as a state representative from 2005-2010 and spent the last six years working at the Capitol to protect our water, support production agriculture, and promote proper wildlife management. She will make sure that the western slope perspective is heard.

66 Kathleen knows ranching firsthand and her lengthy and excellent past legislative service gives her extremely valuable background in the challenging water and agricultural issues of HD58. As always, her focus will be on promoting and fighting for what's best for the West Slope, especially the people in her district. She'll bring much needed rural common sense to Denver and the state Capitol!

Committee Chair Reports:

Finance, Audit & Rate Committee (FAR) — Damon Lockhart, Chair

Lockhart said, "There is no report. We did not meet."

Engineering, Construction & Energy Services Committee – Enno Heuscher, Chair.

Heuscher said, "There is no report. The next meeting is in September." There was a brief discussion on what items would appear on the agenda for the meeting.

Member Relations Committee – Kevin Williams, Chair.

Williams said, "We have not met. We will meet in August. We need to discuss scholarships."

Executive Committee – Stacia Cannon, Chair

Cannon said, "The Executive Committee did not meet. Nothing to report."

Informational Item (Non-Privileged CEO Report) – CEO Jack Johnston.

Johnston passed around thank you notes, magazine articles, and highlighted awards recognizing the marketing team. He touched briefly on updating the general information cards, safety, 15,000 customers connected to Elevate, new meters four -weeks out, and hydro productivity. DMEA was recently recognized for their Cyber Tech efforts.

Johnston said, "We are above 90 percent in our answer rate [customer service]. We are actively hiring. We are sponsoring events, and we had our groundbreaking today [Garnet Mesa Solar]. Operating margins are trending well. With warm weather, demand is going up. On August 12 we will have the Operation Round-Up social [meeting with both boards]." Johnston stated that "Flattop and North Delta will go live today," however, no context was given.

Light Up the Navajo Nation:

Description of the project and previous year's videos are available online. There are 13,000 families on the reservation who have lived for decades without electricity, i.e. no refrigerators, air conditioning, water from wells, oxygen concentrators.

DMEA 2024 participants shared their experience with the board. Johnston said, "We did four miles and 55 poles. This is a non-profit project. There are 46 power companies from 16 states. This [project] started in 2019 and 850 homes have now been connected [to electricity]. We turned on the power to one man's house and he said he now planned to buy a blender so he could make chili. We're going to send him a blender!"

Johnston noted it could take decades to finish the project and get power to all the homes on the Navajo Reservation. The slowdown can be partially attributed to the government approving easements. He said, "The US government owns all the land, it's a government reservation."

The board watched a brief video on the project and saw photos of DMEA's contribution (equipment and labor). Heuscher said, "It was an incredible experience. It provides humanitarian aid, and you can't leave there without feeling more patriotic." Heuscher showed photos of a hydropanel (Source Global), which, rather than producing electricity, produces a gallon of water a day without the use of electricity. He said, "Not only do they not have electricity, they have no water. No electricity, no water!"

DMEA employee Wayne said, "It was definitely a humbling experience."

Chief of Staff Amy Taylor said, "I knew they didn't have a lot, but it was very eye-opening to see the degree to which they didn't have a lot. It was a great experience."

The DMEA staff have begun plans for next year's participation, which will include a slot for one board member to attend as a working member of the crew. Informational Iten (Non-Privileged Legal Report) – Attorney Sarah Abbott.

Abbott said, "We are working on policies and Bylaws. Bylaws are a pretty big project. We're cleaning up and checking statutes." Any changes to the Bylaws must be presented to the membership for review 30 days before approval by the board. Abbott said, "There are no regulatory matters to report." Abbott reported on attending a national conference.

Informational Item Director Reports Western United Electrical Supply (WUES) Report – Jock Fleming.

Fleming said, "We didn't meet. I'll miss their next board meeting."

Colorado Rural Electric Association (CREA) Report – Damon Lockhart.

Lockhart said, "I've attended two co-op meetings. We had an easy election, two incumbents, unopposed. There are two [job] openings for senior staff, Safety Coordinator and Legislative Lobbyist. There will be an executive committee meeting to discuss the openings."

The DMEA board briefly discussed employees within energy related fields who are leaving prominent positions in one organization for opportunities in other organizations.

Conferences, Webinars & Meetings JOLT Second Annual Energy Conference on June 27-28, held at the Montrose Pavilion.

Reports from board members who attended the conference varied. Williams said, "A lot of the topics were on the electrical grid and transmission lines. There was nothing on energy efficiency. The summit was sort of tilted toward centralized energy. Heavy on presentation, not a lot of opportunity for discussion and questions. Overall, an interesting convention."

Newly elected board member Ryan Sedgeley said, "Kevin [Williams] is too kind; there was propaganda. Maybe we shouldn't sponsor it next year. There wasn't anything on climate change."

Jacob Gray highlighted some of the information he gleaned from the conference.

Fleming said, "There was some good stuff. They do seem to talk about nuclear [power]. Slow down renewables and looking at nuclear." Fleming noted that even though the topic of nuclear energy is mentioned in energy conferences, it is currently not viable.

Williams said, "Data centers need a lot of power."

Cannon, Gray, and Johnston toured the West Elk Mine. Cannon said, "We went three miles in and 700 feet down." Photos of the tour were not permitted.

Johnston said, "They are our largest consumer [of power]. Overall, it was enlightening."

Cannon reported on several online classes and webinars that she attended.

NON-CITIZENS MUST BEWARE OF REGISTERING TO VOTE AND VOTING!!

Editor:

This is direct information from the Colorado Secretary of state's website found at sos.state.co.us

"We should be unfaithful to ourselves if we should ever lose sight of the danger to our liberties. if anything, partial or extraneous should infect the purity of our free, fair, virtuous, and independent election."-John Adams

The Colorado Secretary of State's website says that. "Colorado has noncitizens registered to vote and taking part in state elections." Admitting the very fact that Colorado elections are no longer pure but, indeed are highly infected. Let that sink in for a minute!

Under the sub-section on their website, titled, "Noncitizens on Colorado's voting roles: problems and solution's dated August 16,2012, they admit" Colorado identified 3,903 registered voters whose citizenship status was in question. I wonder how many registered voters' citizenship status is in question today? With Democrats open border policies and mass voter registration implemented it has to be substantially higher; one would intelligently sur-

On the website I listed above it says. "Colorado's failure to take reasonable steps to protect voter rolls hurts legal aliens in the state." I would have to say it also hurts citizens and can drastically hurt noncitizens. But they never mention those two groups of people.

The Secretary of State's website also states that "Evidence shows that many noncitizens do not intend to break the law, but instead register to vote because they do not understand what they are doing. But, isn't that kind of demeaning to the intelligence of foreigners and absolutely a lame excuse for breaking laws? Absolutely!! Plus, everyone knows that excuse would never hold up in a court of

The text goes on to say." They mistakenly believe they may vote or they do not realize they are registered. However, as stated by the Secretary of State." Even those who unintentionally violate the law face REAL consequences." "These include felony charges and the possibility of deportation, which affects a non-citizen's ability to apply for naturalization, pursue educational opportunities, or legally work." And "Those who willfully violate the law face SEVERE penalties. "Falsely identifying oneself as a citizen on a government form is a felony that could include the penalty of deportation. And "submitting false information to an election division carries a federal penalty of up to 5 YEARS in PRIS-ON."

Colorado law states that any person participating in an election where he or she is ineligible to vote is guilty of a class 6 felony. Therefore, noncitizens you MUST BE-WARE of registering and voting!! As for the legal residents of Montrose County, it's obvious that Colorado voter rolls are infected and our vote is not being protected. Therefore, it's incumbent upon us to start reporting ALL suspicious, unlawful voting activity in order to keep our elections fair, free, and pure.

May God bless America and may God bless all those who are willing to fight to keep it!!

TIME TO UNIONIZE MONTROSE COUNTY SHERIFF DEPARTMENT

Editor:

It is long past time the leadership (what little there is of it) in Montrose County be moved aside.

The Montrose County Commissioners fail to recognize and remedy the need to treat the men and women of the MCSO with dignity and respect especially regarding their pay and retirement package. They seem to be treating the Deputies as indentured servants.

PSST funds in the millions (which were voted by the electorate to improve pay, retirement and equipment) have been taken from the PSST and transferred into General Fund expenditures without authorization. There has been no movement on the FPPA retirement plan as requested and needed by the force. Retention of sworn officers in the toilet!

Citizens in support of the Montrose County Sheriff Department know that the rank and file at the MCSO have been misrepresented, sold out and ignored for the last 20 years.

Citizens, Sheriff's deputies and the administration know that there is no positive representation of them at the County level. The rank and file are well aware of what the county has done with their PSST funds and want to know what is to be done to improve their lot by correcting this misappropriation. They see that it is more important to our elected officials and the county administration to play footsie with the BOCC than it is to fix the problem, or even attempt to do so.

They know that the anticipated county tax revenue has climbed by astronomical levels this year. They also know that they have no representation in front of a BOCC that is bent on taking the PSST money that was voted for them. In other words they need 'someone' who will speak for them without needing to 'kiss up' or 'play footsie" with the commissioners.

IT IS TIME, LONG PAST TIME, TO UNION-IZE THE MONTROSE COUNTY SHERIFF'S OFFICE.

This is necessary because from my observation of the last 20 years of the BOCC/ Sheriff Department relations, the BOCC will never, of their own volition, do what is right for the Sheriff's Officers of their county.

The City of Montrose has used their PSST properly. It is shameful that the BOCC cannot operate on the same high level of equity and fair play for these MOST important employees and their families, the Sheriff's deputies.

The employees have the last word and are leaving regularly with no replacements. With union representation they will be heard. My last word is that I want a strong well manned (and womaned) sheriff's department.

Enough is enough.

Bill Bennett, Montrose, CO

IT SEEMS LIKE THE FIX WILL BE IN ONCE AGAIN

Editor:

On July 17 the BOCC met in regular session and appointed Emily Sanchez interim county manager. At that meeting they noted their intention to conduct an "internal" county wide search for a new county manager that would last seven days until July 25. On July 26, I contacted the county with a request to provide me with the names of applicants applying for the position of County Manager, A simple question requiring a simple answer though not so simple when delving into Montrose County interworking and the peoples business.

By mid-afternoon and not having had a prompt response I phoned in a follow-up to my question and was told my request had to go through the legal department. Just before 5PM I received an email and as usual, just like cracking a "JACK IN THE BOX," a legal justification popped up stating that that information was not available because of a Colorado statute. Frustrated, my follow-up question was even simpler – how many applications were received for that position at the close out of application date and time on July25th? Even that simple question failed to get a simple number reply. So much for the highly touted TRANSPARENCY in Montrose County government!

According to the information I received in the video CC has decided to broaden a search for a county manager, no specifications on how broad, with a decision being made on September 4 at the BOCC's meeting. Absent full transparency on the search with public input before a final decision, it certainly seems like the fix will be in once again.

DMEA CELEBRATES GROUNDBREAKING FOR GARNET MESA SOLAR

Special to the Mirror

DELTA – Tuesday, July 23, marked the much-anticipated groundbreaking for Garnet Mesa Solar, an 80-megawatt agrivoltaic solar facility located just a few miles southeast of Delta. DMEA, along with Alluvial Power and the Delta County Commissioners, commemorated the occasion, highlighting the benefits of local affordable energy production.

"Our goal is to provide safe, reliable, and affordable power, in that order. And Garnet Mesa Solar enhances all of them. It is our hope to bring forth other such initiatives in the future," stated DMEA CEO, Jack Johnston during his welcome remarks.

Construction of the Garnet Mesa Solar array is expected to be complete by the summer of 2025. Once operational, it will produce approximately 200,000 megawatt hours of electricity annually: enough energy to power roughly 18,000 average homes. DMEA will receive a portion of the energy produced by the plant, helping the co-op achieve an energy mix comprised of 20% local power.

As one of the largest agrivoltaics facilities in Colorado, Garnet Mesa Solar will simultaneously support local agriculture and energy production. The array will provide more than 200 irrigated acres of grazing land, with plentiful shade provided by the solar panels and another 500 trees. Sperry Livestock Corporation of Delta County will also graze up to 600 sheep on the array grounds.

During remarks, DMEA CEO Jack Johnston noted that the co-op's efforts to generate local energy began in earnest in 2010 with the development of five hydroelectric facilities. Shortly thereafter, in 2011, DMEA installed two community solar gardens, which provide energy directly to its members. Most recently, in 2020, DMEA established a power supply partnership with Guzman Energy, bringing new flexibility and opportunities for greater local energy development.

Johnston also recognized the many partner organizations that worked together to bring Garnet Mesa Solar to fruition, including the Delta County Commissioners and staff members, Guzman Energy, and the new long-term owner and operator of Garnet Mesa Solar, Alluvial Power. Alluvial has been working closely with Guzman Energy and DMEA and assumed ownership of the project in June 2024.

"We are excited to invest in Delta County and have a long-term presence here [...] We are really excited to bring reliable, low -cost, long-term energy solutions to DMEA and Guzman," remarked Brian McCurdy, Alluvial Power Principal. Delta County Commissioner Don Suppes also addressed the crowd, acknowledging the challenges and hard work involved in establishing a successful solar facility that benefits local citizens. "Delta County is excited for this project. We're excited to partner with Alluvial. We're excited to have this in our backyard. You know, the whole eat local thing spread pretty hard through this valley a number of years ago, and there are a lot of people who live by that. There's no reason we can't produce electricity local too [...] It's exciting that we can produce that amount of power right here in Delta County," said Suppes.

Additional information about Garnet Mesa Solar is available at garnet-mesasolar.com.

OPINION/EDITORIAL: LETTERS

DISLIKED BY HER OWN STAFF. HARRIS HAD WORST VP RATING IN HISTORY OF POLLING

Editor:

Democrats are total frauds. "No one is above the law," but after the riots in DC last week the people who were arrested for vandalizing public buildings and monuments, burning the US flag, and assaulting police officers had their charges dropped. Assault a police officer while wearing a Palestinian flag and you get released with a request to stay away from Union Station. Walk into the Capitol on January 6th and the FBI will relentlessly hunt you down and throw you in "pretrial detention".

A key Democrat talking point is that they seek to "save democracy," but when they were caught in their years-long lies about Biden's mental deterioration, his corruption, and his "accomplishments," they simply decided election results from their primary would be discarded - disenfranchising 14.4 million voters because their choice was no longer in agreement with the party elite. They nullified their own election. The new "annointed one" is Kamala Harris, who found herself on the presidential ballot without having to secure a single primary vote. (When she actually entered the presidential primary in 2020, she was so unpopular her campaign fizzled before the convention). Now the Democrat fraud machine has to come up with more lies to re-invent Kamala – just as they attempted to do with Biden. It's actually unimportant whether Biden chose Kamala as his running mate because she is a black woman, but the fraudsters are now even denying that. (Ignore the fact that Biden decided on, or was pressured into, picking a black woman as his running mate. He promised to do it. He bragged about doing it). It's also not important how people perceive her intellectually. (Trump hater and columnist George Will described her cringeworthy word salads as reminiscent of a student trying to offer a book report on a book she hadn't read). Of importance are her record and her stated positions, which will be much harder for the fraud machine to convincingly lie about.

Suddenly, Kamala is a "pragmatic moderate," and is "the middle-of-the-road moderate wing of the Democrat party"?? Her record and stated positions prove otherwise: She praised the persecution of prolife pregnancy centers. She is on record supporting the bill that would have permitted late-term abortions. As California's AG, Harris targeted a pro-life journalist who exposed Planned Parenthood for trafficking the body parts of aborted babies – tried to throw him in jail. As senator, she voted against protections for babies born alive after botched abortions. She is openly anti-Catholic, including smearing a court nominee for his affiliation with the "extreme" Knights of Columbus. Her voting record caused her to be rated "the most liberal senator."

In fact, her record in the Senate was to the left of Bernie Sanders. She is on the record in favor of defunding police and empowering criminals.

She supported the bailing out of 2020 rioters after their months-long, $2 billion siege of American cities. She is a gungrabber. She compared border security to the KKK and knowingly spread the border patrol whipping lie. She wants to strip Americans of their private health insurance. She wants to raise taxes.

Also, Harris suddenly isn't really the "Border Czar" responsible for the open border catastrophe or any of Biden's other "accomplishments"?? In fact, she owns a big chunk of American's inflation pain and had a hand in the other Biden-Harris messes, including foreign policy. But Biden's most egregious disaster has been the border invasion, in which Kamala fully participated. Years of deflections, lies, and excuses led to ten million illegal crossings under Harris' watch, including many violent criminals, gang members, cartel members, and terrorists. Kamala did exactly what was expected of her on the border, which was to shirk her duties and do nothing. Her only action was to note that one of the "root causes" of the border problem was "lack of climate resilience," or something.

I'm not sure how the propaganda machine will spin the fact Kamals had a frontrow seat to Biden's physical and mental deterioration and actively participated in the coverup. She routinely issued statements attesting to Joe's fitness for the job. The challenge to show Biden fit for the job pales in comparison to the job of covering up for Kamala being wildly unpopular, or picturing Kamala as remotely fit for even her present job. One of her accomplishments is receiving the worst VP rating in the history of polling. She is even disliked by her own staff - a whopping 92% have left in the last three years, with accusations of a toxic work environment. Remember, though, that the Democrat fraud machine painted Biden as a moderate, agent of normalcy, but, once elected, the people controlling him raced leftward. Biden governed more like Harris campaigned before her bid came to a premature and inglorious end.

The fraud machine will have more difficulty framing Kamala as anything close to "normalcy", but if they were to succeed, they will have what they want --- another puppet totally under their control. Democracy saved.

U.S SHOULD INCREASE INVESTMENT IN RENEWABLES, FIGHT BACK AGAINST CHINESE DOMINANCE

Editor:

I woke up one morning this week to a dark sky, thinking "Wow, it's cloudy, maybe we'll get some rain!" ... but it wasn't clouds I was seeing, it was the wafting remains of Canadian forests and towns, about 1000 miles away, blotting out the Sun. I couldn't see the mountains in any direction, and I couldn't even see the far side of Montrose from the top of Sunset Mesa on my morning ride. The smoke filled skies have been getting worse over the past decade. For a few years before that, it was haze, and before that, there were blue skies most of the summer. I recall a time when forest fires occurred regularly in Colorado, but didn't dominate the news from early spring through late fall.

Welcome to Climate Change. 1-70, the main transportation corridor for the center of the USA, was closed a few years ago, caused by catastrophic forest fires on the mesas above Glenwood Canyon which obliterated the forests for hundreds of square miles. With no more trees, the soil turns to mud when it rains. A subsequent rain brought catastrophic avalanches of mud and rocks that closed off portions of I -70 for weeks. This phenomenon is now common in our state. Take a look at forests throughout Colorado, and how beetle kill is devastating them through a longer pest season, exacerbated by increasing heat and drought. I could give many more examples of how the damaging effects of Climate Change are staring us in the face, both here and around the world. Bottom line? What scientists have been telling us for decades, and what Exxon and the Koch Brothers have been spending hundreds of millions of dollars denying, is that the destructive effects of increasing carbon in the atmosphere will lead to a cascading series of natural disasters that could bring civilization as we know it to an end. This will happen from mass migration due to rising seas, ever bigger storms swamping coastal cities, and places already hot and dry (Phoenix, Las Vegas, etc.) becoming unlivable. We must keep pressure up on our leaders to do something about this threat to our children's future.

Many Republican "leaders" ask: "What Climate Change?" ... it's a "natural cycle" that we can do nothing about ... and/or, "It's a Chinese hoax!". But ... some 95% of scientists disagree, knowing that climate change is caused by burning fossil fuels (the other 5% are mainly employed by the fossil fuel industry). The Republican solution: open up public lands to more drilling, and eliminate requirements for more fuel efficiency. Short term profit over long term health; leaving the next generation to pay the price. Get rid of all environmental regulations, and let industry deal with it. But, of course, if we drill for more oil, gas, and coal, we will have to crank up our air conditioners to deal with the increased heat ... and this would just create a doom loop; causing us to burn more fuel, adding even more greenhouse gases, which caused the problem in the first place. The disaster rate will accelerate under that scenario. But there is another way: The Chinese are presently eating our lunch in the renewable energy sector, just as the Japanese did in the automotive sector in the 70's. Having gone through a hellish amount of air and water pollution up until a decade ago (remember those pictures from Chinese cities?), the Chinese embraced clean energy and electric vehicle adoption. Now they lead the world in these lucrative markets, and are leaving us in the dust as we bicker across a political divide that is killing our country. The skies across China are now noticably clearer as they move away from coal power and gasoline and diesel powered vehicles. As a result of increased manufacturing, solar and other renewable energy sources are rising in efficiency and rapidly dropping in price. Jobs in renewables are rising rapidly, even as fossil fuel jobs are stable or falling. Although solar presently supplies only 4% of electricity in the U.S., this rate is rising rapidly, and prices are falling even faster. Presently, China has 3 times the solar capacity of the U.S., but Biden's IRA is increasing competition, and is bringing back solar and EV manufacturing plants to the U.S. We must double down on this type of investment to fight back against Chinese dominance.

You may want to keep these thoughts in mind as you consider how to spend your precious vote this coming November. Do you want to move our country forward, provide your children with a livable planet, and support fast growing careers in renewable energy and clean technologies; or do you want them to inherit a hot, polluted hellscape, propping up jobs in the fossil fuel industry, which will shrink appreciably in the next couple of decades? To "drill now, drill everywhere"; ruining, and then selling off our public lands to the highest bidder, returning chaos to government, and continuing the bitter political battles that hobble our ability to accomplish anything: vote "R". But to reclaim the world leadership in the vibrant and growing renewable energy market, which is increasingly being embraced by the rest of the world, while at the same time returning sanity to politics, treating, and be treated by, our allies with respect, standing up for the rule of law and our justice system, removing bullies and lunatics from our political landscape, and embracing a healthy, prosperous future for coming generations: vote "D"! ALTRUSA CLUB CELEBRATES 49 YEARS OF SERVICE TO MONTROSE & THE WORLD From pg 1 and lifestyles, including owners of local businesses, community volunteers, former professional women who, now retired, are ready to do service for the community and beyond. Altrusa of Montrose is committed to a better community through hands-on volunteer service. The club has flexible opportunities for service, and leaders say the club appreciates the value of members' time.

The club welcomes women and men from diverse backgrounds and experiences who share common goals and provides many opportunities for leadership development through service. Montrose's on-going projects include supporting community members and veterans, and the club has supported the needy in underserved villages around the world, including in Nepal and Mexico. In a Nepalese village the local club most recently provided funds, along with Western Colorado Friends of the Himalayas, for supplies to help rebuild the village school after a devastating earthquake.

The Montrose community is very aware and supportive of Altrusa's annual Spring Luncheon/Fashion Show fundraiser, which helps raise money for various philanthropic projects. This year the luncheon raised money to fund literacy and other community projects.

One of the club's earliest community projects was helping the City of Montrose establish Altrusa Park, which runs alongside Hillcrest Drive between Niagara and Sunnyside roads. The park, according to a City of Montrose spokesman, was installed in 1986. Part of the park includes a community garden which Altrusa members have maintained by weeding and watering the flowers and plants; recently the city repaired the park watering system to include the garden, said a Montrose Park and Recreation Department spokesman.

In Montrose, the club has recently undertaken a project helping outfit the kitchens of the newly constructed Village on San Juan. The small development going up on San Juan Blvd. in Montrose will provide new housing for homeless (or threatened homeless) seniors and teens who have aged out of the foster care system.

Charter member Dena Brooks is especially proud of the way Altrusa International of Montrose has supported poor villages in Mexico. "We raised money for an expensive 'concrete form' for water purification, and a member and her husband drove the form down to a village where the town used it to make concrete and pebble water filters, so individual homes could have clean running water," Brooks said. "It was a lot of money, and then the town moved the form on to other villages, so they could have clean water also." Brooks is one of two charter members still active in the Montrose club, which was chartered in 1975. She and Margaret Goodhue helped start the local club, with Brooks as the first president. Brooks and senior club members, Roberta Hoey (23 years) and Dorothy Causey (35 years) recently sat down with this Mirror reporter to discuss Altrusa of Montrose's outstanding current and past projects. "In the beginning," said Causey, "there wasn't social media, so club members went door to door on Main Street recruiting new members for the club. To join the international organization, it meant we needed at least 20 members to start the club, and we started with 37 members."

At the June 2024 Montrose Altrusa meeting celebrating the milestone, Brooks shared stories about one of their early service projects, "Lifeline." The club purchased emergency alarms for local seniors in need of assistance. In the beginning Altrusa members had to go to local seniors' houses and physically help install the equipment; this often meant having to crawl under houses to get to power lines. "Can you imagine?" Brooks said. It was one of the club's early projects. Brooks says, "It finally got to be too much for the club to handle -- almost like a business and not in our charter -- so the project was turned over to the Montrose Hospital. Altrusa of Montrose also hosted community wine and cheese nights at some local motels as fundraisers. The club still holds member social events, as well as membership recruitments. For more information on the local club, you can go to their website at AltrusaMontrose.org or for more information you may call 970-765-7666 or email Altrusa. Montrose@gmail.com.

OPINION/EDITORIAL: LETTERS

SO, THE VOTING MACHINE CONSPIRACY THEORY IS FINALLY LAID TO REST, I HOPE

Editor:

With the recount of the HD58 primary. Suckla up by three votes before the recount and up by three votes after the recount. This should end the red herring conspiracy theory about the voting machines switching votes. Each candidate gained one vote due to a difference of two cured ballots. For the past four years the voters have been inundated with wild conspiracy theories about voting machines switching votes. No one has ever proved this but plenty of people have ruined their reputations, ruined themselves financially (Mike Lindell) and Tina Peters will most likely go to jail. All because they tried but could not prove this false conspiracy theory.

During the 2020 election some crooked things did happen but none of them had anything to do with the voting machines. During the 2020 election the democrats engaged in ballot harvesting. Five states changed their voting process without going through their legislature, as required by law. The FBI engaged in an illegal investigation of Trump. All started by a false FISA report that was initiated by Hillary Clinton and Barack Obama. And the pandemic assisted in keeping people from campaigning the way they normally would have.

I will tell you why I do not buy in to most conspiracy theories. A conspiracy is a group of people that get together to do something nefarious. The problem with getting a group of people together to do something illegal is that someone will talk. And the bigger the group the more apt it is to be exposed. People are lousy at keeping secrets. This is why most conspiracies are exposed before the crime ever happens. And with hundreds of thousands maybe, even millions of voting machines in use here in the USA that is that many opportunities for the corruption to be exposed.

The 2020 stolen election took place in plain sight, because the average voter is not very well informed and does not know when to ask questions or to point something out that our government is doing that should be scrutinized a little more thoroughly. Five states changing their voting process in the middle of a hotly contested presidential election. And that was a bad idea. Colorado changed to the mail in ballots in 2013, an off-election year. This gave them plenty of time to work the bugs out of it. The next election cycle was a mid-term election. And then the 2016 presidential election. By that time Colorado had mail in voting figured out. I was on the canvasing board for two years 2019 and 2020. I tested the machines and I know how they work. That is why I know the voting machine conspiracy is a baseless accusation. Ray Langston, Montrose

LOCAL GOVERNMENT — MORE OUT OF TOUCH THAN EVER

Spend, Spend & Spend Some More — Decisions are Lacking a Reality Check

By David White

This past week brought to light some interesting decision-making outcomes on the part of local government elected officials and some of their underlings in the bureaucracies of the City and County. Let's start with Montrose County. The current County Manager, Jon Waschbusch, is leaving Montrose County within the next week. Advertising for his replacement began last week. Mr. Waschbusch has been receiving a salary of $190,000 plus a very nice benefit package. He began his tenure as County Manager in July of 2021 with a salary of $157,000 and was given an 18% raise between 2021 and 2023. The job posting by the County states that the salary range for a new manager will be between $160,000 and $187,000 (County Manager | Career Opportunities (ultipro.com)). Requirements for the job were modified by the County Commissioners, lowering the qualifications necessary to apply for the position. What is interesting is that the average County Manager in Colorado earns approximately $146,000 (see Salary: County Manager in Colorado, US 2024 | Glassdoor) per year yet Montrose County (with a population of 44,000 people) is paying substantially more. The usual reasons are given such as the need to compare government salaries with similar government jobs, market adjustments for our part of the state vs. a more urbanized area, etc. Regardless of the arguments, the taxpayers are once again taking a back seat to these decisions by elected officials that are out of touch with reality. And the City of Montrose isn't any better. City Manager Bell is currently being paid $210,000 per year plus very generous benefits while the average City Manager in Colorado is earning between $107,562 and $132,573 (City Manager Salary in Colorado | Salary.com). The City of Montrose population is approximately 22,000. How can such salaries be justified? The public needs to ask their elected officials this question!

Putting the above numbers in perspective, the average salary of a United States governor is $150,000 in 2024! The highest paid governor is in New York - $250,000 with the lowest paid in Maine - $70,000. The Governor of Colorado is only paid $90,000 per year. (Governor Salary by State 2024 (worldpopulationreview.com)) Something is way off here folks! Adding to the incremental increases in the cost of living in our community are two events that occurred last week that I'd like to share. The first involved our local City managed recycling program. We, as a family, missed one week of having our recycling picked up (out of two per month), leading to an overflowing recycling container. To minimize the chances of having our recyclables dumped on the street, we bagged some of them in a plastic trash bag (which is recyclable) and put the container on the street for pick up. Later in the day, we went to bring the recycle container in and found that it had not been emptied but rather the route driver of the truck picking up the containers stopped his truck, climbed out of it, tagged the container and drove off. The

LOCAL GOVERNMENT — MORE OUT OF TOUCH THAN EVER From previous pg

The stated reason was that you can't bag your recyclable waste, even in a recyclable bag! The time and money wasted in trying to "teach us a lesson" is the brainchild of the Recycle Superintendent, Abel Velarde, a city employee (bureaucrat). All I can say is "what the heck?" You have my address, phone number and email address available to you. A simple text message or email would suffice as opposed to the waste of time and expense of slowing your route driver down. A call to Mr. Velarde didn't do any good. He was cordial but stood by his logic. This is one reason why there are folks out there that don't bother recycling any more.

The second event involved a call to Dan Payne, Parks Superintendent with the City regarding the large blue spruce tree that is located next to the City of Montrose gateway sign on the north side of town on Highway 50 as you come into Montrose. The spruce has grown so large that it is covering up a third of the sign (see photo). I was told that the City is aware of the issue but that because the tree is so healthy, they don't want to trim it back. Instead, they are planning to remove the stone sign and replace it with a new monument style sign once they can budget for it. Personally, I like the sign as it is and think it would be much cheaper to give the tree a haircut rather than spending a hundred grand or more to tear down and build a new sign. But what the heck, it's only your money, right?

Lastly, I'd like to address the issue of the homeless as well as a number of panhandlers that have taken to various street corners. This past weekend I witnessed a larger number of individuals walking our City streets with bedrolls and backpacks. Some had bicycles. Some had shopping carts with their things in them. Some were dumpster diving (the dumpster at the new Velocity car wash on N. 9th and Townsend is particularly attractive for some reason). There is even, by all appearances, a homeless encampment consisting of three (3) old travel trailers parked at the end of Ogden Road past Home Depot down near the Uncompahgre River (see photo). There are more of course with this one being more visible due to its location.

I'd like to know what the City is doing to address this issue. Non-profit organizations are doing their best to assist. Summer is often when our area attracts a larger number of folks struggling to make it in this world. No one likes to see sights like this in their community. The effect on a community is broad. Mental health issues abound. Drug or other dependencies add to the issue. Sanitation and public health are of concern. Perhaps an up-to-date report from the City and law enforcement would be helpful in allowing the public to have some insight into the size of the situation we're dealing with this summer. Have a great week Montrose! Get involved and know what is happening in your community.

Mr. White is an active citizen & community leader as well as a business owner, entrepreneur, former Montrose City Councilmember and Mayor as well as a two term County Commissioner and has served on many boards and commissions during his career. He & his wife are the parents of six children and have 10 grandchildren & one great grandchild.

OPINION/EDITORIAL: LETTERS

MCSO HAS LOST AN ALARMING NUMBER OF DEPUTIES TO OTHER COMMUNITIES

Editor:

During county budget discussions last fall, Sheriff Lillard made our County Manager and the BOCC aware of the troubling public safety fact that he was experiencing unprecedented problems in recruitment and retention of qualified deputies. He requested an additional 4% salary adjustment for 2024 as well as a move to the FPPA retirement program for retention of officers. County Manager Waschbusch recommended denial of those requests despite the concerning facts and the BOCC, in what has turned out to be a mistaken decision.

Since then, our MCSO has lost an alarming number of deputies to other communities including the Montrose City Police department offering a higher salary scale as well as FPPA retirement, as of today, almost seven months later, our MCSO is experiencing a deficit of 36% of qualified deputies, putting our county and current deputies at an increasing safety risk.

At this time, just to be able to compete for qualified officers, Sheriff Lillard has estimated that he needs a budgetary infusion of approximately $1.2 million. This does not even address the major problem of retention and slowing the loss of officers to more competitive markets.

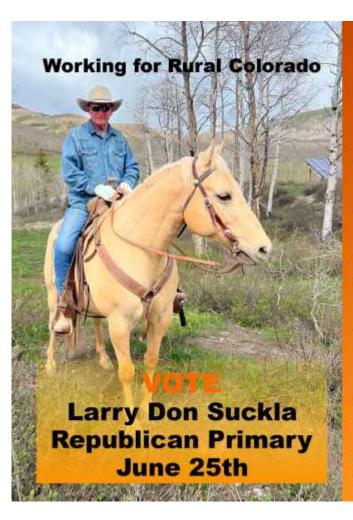

Instead of taking prompt corrective action, the BOCC have certainly been remiss in their duty to assure the highest degree of public safety for Montrose County residents. Considering all of this and absent any immediate corrective action by the BOCC, my greatest fear is that citizens or deputies may be injured or killed due to the inability of our MCSO to respond to unforeseen threats in a timely and safe manner. If, God forbid, that occurs, the responsibility will fall squarely at the feet of our commissioners who will not be able to explain their inaction.

Considering their callous disregard for our public safety, Citizens of Montrose County concerned about our collective public safety should encourage the commissioners to promptly provide the necessary funding for our Sheriff Department to increase the Sheriff's ability to compete and function at a higher level as well as moving ahead on the FPPA retirement program.

Second guessing Sheriff Lillard's request for this funding is not necessary and puts on full display for all to see the total incompetence of this current board of county commissioners that has aligned itself against any and all persons that disagree with them.

OPINION/EDITORIAL: LETTERS

THE CLOCK IS TICKING; TIME TO RETURN AMERICA TO COMMON SENSE IS RUNNING OUT

To whom it may concern,

Thomas Jefferson said "The government you elect is the government you deserve."

With Biden we got worse than we deserve.

In fact, 100 percent of Washington and the media have known for two years that Biden was cognitively compromised, yet they let him (and his handlers) run the most powerful country in the world. An act of insurrection by the handlers.

Then it got worse. They let him run for a second term knowing that a second term would definitely destroy America.

Then it got even worse. They got caught by a simple debate and finally admitted to their lies and cover ups and got him booted out of the race for a second term, creating an angry vindictive lame duck president. Now it gets even worse. They are letting an obviously defunct and angry president who has the nuclear code, and power of executive order, finish six months in the most dangerous job in human history. The current vile depraved corrupt politicians in Washington are leading us into a death trap. When I say Washington I refer to Democrats, Republicans, and Independents. I am not letting Colorado politicians off the hook, I am a Colorado voter. These unprincipled reprobates are going to take away our resolve and probably our guns and render us defenseless against the evil in the world.

All common sense and true justice has already been buried in Washington. Watch the fake national tv news and you can't help but see how far off the tracks we are.

This nation was not built on confusion, or evil, or immorality, or hatred, or irresponsibility, or corruption, or deep state, or weaponized bureaucracy . This country was built by honest compassionate people. Yet, look where we are today.

If my predictions are correct there is only one thing that can save America, that would be God, but in 1962 the supreme court ruled that prayer in schools was unconstitutional, effectively removing God from schools.

A country that mocks God will not be given his protection.

Joe Biden mocks God and defies his own Catholic religion.

His handlers can deliver us to destruction. A classic case of cutting off your nose to spite your face.

A destroyed society is easily dominated. Stand for something or fall for anything, when good people do nothing, bad people do everything.

When the Communist Chinese or the Communist Russians or the Islamic extremists take control of our country mired in immorality and ignorant politics there will be such a holocaust as we have not seen since Hitler.

Try kneeling to disrespect their flag and see what happens.

You notice I said when, not if.

The clock is ticking. Most Christians believe we are in the final days of humanity and the chaos when America falls will be just the trigger.

But I'm talking about the clock to return America to common sense is running out. Let's talk about common sense.

I wonder if the people of the United States are going to be able to regain common sense before the next election.

No matter how much you say it...a biological man won't ever have a baby.

Common sense tells you that no matter how many times the fake news regurgitates that the border is secure, it is a damnable lie.

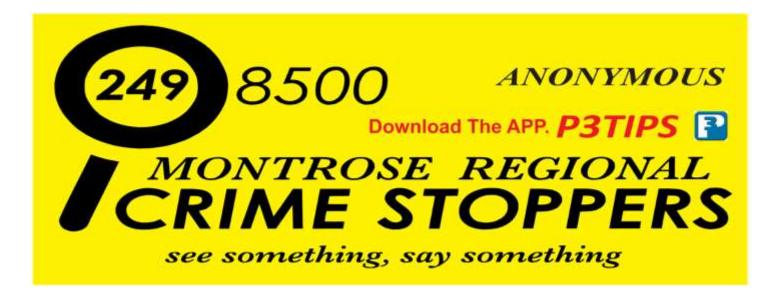

There is no such thing as Bigfoot or UFOs...if there was we would have both on display. Common sense folks. Those people have been lying to you since the 1950s.

Think people, think.

Common sense tells me that Polis and the Democrats are going to take two things away from us very soon, guns and Tabor. I remind you that this is an election year. So I ask American Citizen voters. What are you going to do about it? Don't vote for the party. Vote your heart. Use common sense.

Demand character and integrity at EVERY level.

OPINION/EDITORIAL: LETTERS

DOLORES RIVER CANYON NATIONAL MONUMENT:

Making hasty decisions that have long term consequences is not the way to proceed

Editor:

I had the honor of attending the Club 20 Summer Policy Meetings this week held in Nucla, Colorado. For those not familiar with Club 20, it is a non partisan coalition of individuals, businesses, tribes and local governments representing 22 western counties in Colorado. They have been the Voice of the Western Slope for 70 years. The meeting was very informative, especially for someone like myself who will be representing Montrose County as the District 1 Commissioner in 2025. The topics for the meeting ranged from protecting our water, ranching, farming and the preservation of our Western Colorado lands.

Perhaps the most interesting speaker was John Whitney, Senator Michael Bennet's Regional Director for the Four Corners Region of Colorado. Director Whitney addressed the members regarding the status of the Proposed Designation of the Dolores River Canyon National Monument. He gave the impression that designation by way of the Antiquities Act was no longer the preferred path for "Protecting" this remote area of our state. Instead, he informed members that an NCA (National Conservation Area) was the option his office would be pursuing. He had explained that his office had been in negotiations with a newly formed, hand-picked "working group" consisting of county commissioners from Montrose and Mesa Counties along with other stakeholders. I say "Hand Picked" because the working group did not include two of the largest land owners whose ranches fell within the NCA's proposed boundaries. (Larry Don Suckla, Suckla Ranch, Steven Redd, Redd Ranch). It also did not include Roger Rash, Montrose County Commissioner for District 3, who has been an outspoken opponent of the Monument and NCA. The working group also excluded Sean Pond, a 4th generation resident of the Dolores River Valley who has spent the last six months researching the proposed Monument and informing people of this effort that began on the front range long before Western Colorado residents knew about it.

One would think that a legitimate working group that would include stakeholders and lawmakers in the area would have included at least these four representatives in any negotiations. Sadly that was not the case.

What was truly remarkable about Mr. Whitney's presentation was that he thought the NCA could be finalized by October of 2024. When time came for Director Whitney to take questions, I raised my hand, introduced myself, and asked him the following question. "Since 15 years of negotiations between stakeholders in four counties for a proposed NCA failed what makes you think you can put this together in three months? And what is the hurry?" He admitted it was an aggressive goal but he thought he could do it by using prior negotiations to speed things along. I don't think anyone in the room believed that but he seems determined to try with this working group.

It is important to note that Club 20, "The Voice of the Western Slope", strongly opposes the Designation of the Dolores Monument. See website.

https://club20.org/club-20-opposesproposed-designation-of-the-dolores-river -canyon-national-monument/

Club 20 could support any alternative to land management that includes the interest of the local communities and stakeholders. This means residents of the area who are impacted by the unintended consequences of the proposed NCA, not environmental activists who are bussed in to give testimony at a public meeting.

Contact your County Commissioners and ask them to slow this process down. Hasty decisions that have long term consequences is not the way to proceed.

If the Dolores River Canyon needs urgent federal protection then it should be done in a responsible way that does not exclude those who express concerns.

As one of your future Montrose County Commissioners I am dedicated to representing our county and the people who live here with courage and commitment. I will be a private citizen until sworn in in January but will be following the important issues that matter to you. Scott Mijares

CBI News Release

CRESTONE – A pipe-wielding suspect was fatally shot by a Saguache County sheriff deputy Thursday afternoon. The Colorado Bureau of Investigation is now assisting the Saguache County Sheriff's Office into the investigation of the fatal shooting.

On Thursday July 25, 2024, at approximately 12:00 PM a Saguache County sheriff deputy was driving near the town of Crestone, Colorado to serve papers when he observed a 40-year-old white male walking about a mile from the entrance of the Baca Grande Subdivision. The deputy recognized the man as having an active warrant.

The deputy attempted to talk with the male suspect when the man began attacking the deputy with a 4-foot metal pipe. The deputy pulled out his service weapon and fired twice, hitting the suspect. The deputy immediately began performing life-saving measures but the suspect was pronounced deceased at the scene. REPUBLICAN WOMEN AWARD SECOND SCHOLARSHIP

By Michael A. Cox

MONTROSE-If you read Keiran Bray's resume, you could become dizzy, your fingers may go numb, and you might become short of breath. She is a busy young lady. This Nucla High School student, among other things, is a full-time cow hand on her family's cattle outfit, Bray Ranches, located not far from Norwood in West Montrose County. Yes, she can fix fences and doctor sick cows. Between school, work and volunteering she is a whirlwind of energy and personality.

Keiran recently graduated from Nucla High with high grades, outstanding character references, and six college credits from Adams State College already in hand. Her record was more than enough to impress the Montrose Republican Women's Club and she now has a $1500-scholarship to kick start her college life at Doane University in Nebraska, where she's majoring in Agribusiness with an eye on becoming an ag lobbyist.

She also has been informed that she is the recipient of the prestigious Perry Scholarship, which is offered by Doane to deserving first-year students. The award could net Bray $21,000 for each of her four years, providing she maintains full time student status and keeps her grade point average at 3.0 or higher. She averaged 4.02 in high school.

Each Montrose County scholarship winner is required to have studied the constitution and they must choose a clause, amendment, or concept laid down by the country's ruling document as their most important. Keiran sees the First Amendment as being especially important to her. In her essay on the First Amendment, Bray cites the right to Freedom of Speech as vitally important.

"The First Amendment serves as the cornerstone of our democratic society," writes Bray. She says that it was her personal experience where she witnessed, firsthand, the empowerment of individuals through free speech that allowed them to hold government accountable during the recent attempt to limit public gatherings and protests.

"Whether through attending town hall meetings, participating in demonstrations or writing letters to the town board, the ability to exercise these freedoms has been instrumental in shaping our local discourse and fostering a culture of civic participation," she wrote.

And don't even think about going against her, one-on-one, on the hoops court. She starred on the championship Nucla cage squad, and she'll be part of the GPAC powerhouse Doane Tigers.

The Montrose Republican women also awarded $1,500 to Ashlee Petranovich, a Montrose High grad, at their regular meeting in June.
